Boys Confess Shooting At Home of Teacher

By The United Press

NEW YORK, April 30—Six Brooklyn schoolboys confessed today to shooting up the home of a pretty, blond school teacher in an effort to scare her into passing their 14-year-old ringleader in mathematics.

"We did it because I knew I couldn't pass math," police quoted Anthony Durso, a grimy faced high school freshman. "I was afraid of what my father would do to me if I flunked."

Durso said he talked five friends from 12 to 16 into helping him in the plot. Using a stolen car, they drove past the home of the teacher, 24-year-old Margaret Jokiel, and fired more than 30 bullets at the windows. They used seven .22 caliber rifles stolen from a Coney Island shooting gallery.

Prior to the shooting a 12-year-old member of the gang called the Jokiel home and warned:

"If you don't pass every one in math tomorrow you'll soon be pushing up lilies."

Feared Plot Failed

Durso was caught because he feared Miss Jokiel was not intimidated by the shooting. He hired a 16-year-old honor student to take the mathematics test for him and the substitute gave the plot away under police questioning.

Some 15 detectives were on duty at the Fort Hamilton High school building while the tests were in progress, and a policeman uncle of Miss Jokiel stayed at her side throughout the day.

The desperate freshman told police he thought up the plot while sitting in a candy store.

"I got some of my pals," police quoted him. "We took a car, then we picked up a couple more fellows and asked them if they wanted to go for a ride."

Durso told police that before they drove to the Jokiel home, he covered the car's headlights with handkerchiefs to make it less conspicuous.

"I handed each one of the fellows a rifle," he said. "I said to them, 'Now shoot, if you're not chicken hearted.'"

Top Off with Sodas

After blasting the house, they abandoned the car and returned to the candy store where they relaxed over some ice cream sodas, Durso told police.

Police said they were investigating to see if the boys were responsible for the theft of the rifles and for the theft of some typewriters and microscopes from the high school two weeks ago. Five of the boys, including Durso, were held for hearing in juvenile court on delinquency charges. A sixth, Richard Marchetti, 16, was held for assault and burglary.

CARL E. METZ RITES TO BE HELD HERE

Body of War Casualty Returned from Europe.

Funeral services for S/Sgt. Carl E. Metz, U. S. Army, killed in action in France July 5, 1944, and returned to this country for final burial, will be held here next Wednesday. The body arrived in New York City March 30 aboard the John L. McCarley, and it is to arrive in Marion with military escort Monday at 4:18 p. m. Rites will be held at the Edwin K. Smith Home for Funerals at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with Veterans Post No. 3313, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in charge. Rev. W. S. Dibert, pastor of the New Bloomington Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Meeker cemetery.

S/Sgt. Metz was serving with the 82nd Airborne Division in France when killed. A former employe of the Osgood Co. here, he made his home with a brother here about two years before entering service in March, 1942. He received his training at Camp Claiborne, La., and at Ft. Bragg, N. C., and was sent overseas in September 1943.

He is survived by his father, Delzon L. Metz of near Meeker, and a brother, Harold L. Metz of 1053 Davids street.

Burial originally was in the U. S. Military cemetery at Blosville, France.

WOMAN HURT AS FIRE BURNS SMALL HOME

Miss Dorothy Reichert in Hospital; Relief Move Started for Two Sisters.

Miss Dorothy Reichert, 57, this morning suffered second degree burns about the face and hands in a fire which destroyed the two-room home occupied by her and her sister Christine.

Firemen were summoned at 3:10 a. m. today to the Reichert dwelling on North State street just north of the city limits but were unable to save the dwelling or its contents as the fire was too far advanced before firemen were called.

Miss Reichert suffered her injuries while trying to rescue a pet duck from the flaming building, she told firemen. She was removed to City hospital by the Uncapher and Bastian ambulance. Attending physicians report she has first and second degree burns of the face, hands and eyes, and her condition at noon was reported as "fair."

Former School Teachers

The Reichert sisters, both former school teachers and daughters of a once prominent Bucyrus family, have been living in straightened circumstances, neighbors report, supporting themselves by doing odd jobs here for the past three years.

Local families who have employed them speak warmly of their industry and diligence. Both are highly educated women, Dorothy, the elder of the two, having attended Columbia university in New York and taught religious education for more than 10 years in Bucyrus schools.

In response to requests of their neighbors, Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt and Police Chief William E. Marks have obtained the approval and endorsement of Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher so that persons wishing to contribute funds or donations of clothing, building material, labor or furniture for assistance to the sisters may contact police or fire headquarters where such donations will be accepted.

All Belongings Destroyed

Firemen report that the sisters escaped the burning building with only the clothing they were wearing and that all of their household goods, personal belongings, and furniture were destroyed in the blaze.

The plight of the Reichert sisters is the subject of an investigation by Red Cross and other welfare authorities who had not been appraised of their needs because of the sisters' proud refusal to accept donations of any kind from friends, neighbors and other donors.

TAFT BIDDING FOR 2ND CHOICE VOTES

Expects To Get Support from Stassen Group.

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., April 30—Sen. Robert A. Taft neared the close of his Ohio stumping campaign today after announcing he seeks second choice support of delegates pledged to Harold E. Stassen.

The Ohio Republican presidential aspirant and Stassen are bidding for 23 of the state's 53 convention delegates. Ohio's primary is next Tuesday.

Taft declared yesterday primary election results are "not determinative of convention results" and that after the state's primary he would go after second choice votes from all Stassen delegates.

"I expect support from Minnesota's delegation as soon as Stassen is out of the race, and he'll be out of it, don't worry," Taft said, adding:

"I'm just as interested in Stassen delegates as any others."

He announced plans to campaign in Wisconsin, Connecticut and New Jersey and possibly Stassen's home state, Minnesota.

Taft's tour today included stops at Elyria, Oberlin College and Akron. Tomorrow, he returns to Cleveland, where he will remain until Monday. He then will go to Cincinnati, his home city, to make two radio broadcasts and await the election returns.

Stassen's Pennsylvania victory was, he said, "on the whole not significant except to show he has an enthusiastic minority."

7 ENTRIES IN DERBY TO BE RUN SATURDAY

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30—Seven three-year-olds were entered today for the seventy-fourth running of the Kentucky derby, smallest field since 1914 for America's premier racing classic.

There was a possibility, however, only six might face the barrier at the 5:30 p. m. (Marion time) post-time tomorrow. The doubtful entry was Galedo, owned by Charles O'Neil of Miami, Fla., whose trainer, Tommy Tault, indicated the colt would go only if the track is muddy.

The forecast calls for considerable cloudiness, warmer and possibly scattered showers.

All the others, whose entry had been assured for days, were in with the top-heavy favorite Calumet farm pair of Citation and Coaltown heading the list.

The winner tomorrow, if six start the race will collect $83,400. If seven go, it will be $84,000. Owners must pay $1,000 to start in the derby.

HOPE TO AVERT RAIL STRIKE

U. S. Mediators Meet Roads' Officials; Truce with Unions Sought.

BULLETIN

CHICAGO, April 30—Mediator Frank Douglass said today if the threatened railroad strike is averted, only direct negotiations between management and labor will do it.

"There doesn't seem to be any feeling for arbitration of the disputed issues," the chairman of the national (railway) mediation board said as he went into his first conference with management spokesmen.

"If this strike is to be settled," he stated, "it must be by direct negotiation by the parties."

By The United Press

CHICAGO, April 30—Federal mediators met with representatives of the nation's railroads today amid increasing confidence that a rail strike set for May 11 can be averted.

Frank P. Douglass, chairman of the National Railways Mediation board, conferred with the railroad officials after meeting yesterday with representatives of the 150,000 engineer, firemen and switchmen who are threatening the walkout.

Following his four-hour session with the union officers, Douglass said the meeting had been "productive of opportunities out of which we may finally get a settlement." He said he was "satisfied with the progress made."

Announces Walkout

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, representing 80,000 men who run the trains, joined the strike movement officially yesterday. The union announced that the engineers would walk out May 11 along with the switchmen and firemen.

The other two unions had already set the date for the strike but J. P. Shields, assistant grand engineer of the engineers brotherhood, said his union's notice was delayed by "a matter of procedure."

Douglass said that union officials surveyed "the whole situation" for him and other members of the mediation board yesterday.

"We found out just what demands the brotherhoods are particularly interested in," he said. "I'll have to admit, that there were quite a number of points of disagreement with what the railroads have offered."

The unions have demanded a 30 per cent wage increase with a $2 minimum daily boost. The rail-

ARSON CHARGE FILED IN COURT

Fostoria Man Held in Burning of Marion County House.

State fire marshals have "broken" a year-old Marion county arson case, Gayle Owens, Chief deputy state fire marshal, said following arraignment in municipal court this morning of Perry L. French, 45, of Fostoria, formerly of Marion.

Arrest of French in Fostoria earlier in the week culminated a year long investigation of the fire which destroyed the three room home of Mrs. Ida Stephenson on the Marion Cardington road a mile south of Marion, Jan. 29, 1947.

French entered a plea of not guilty to the charge through his attorney, Thomas C. Fetter. Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen fixed bond at $1,000. French was returned to Marion county jail pending hearing.

One Held in Georgia

A second Marion county man, Wayne Stephenson, 22, son of Mrs. Stephenson and now serving time in Georgia, also will face an arson charge here in connection with the case, Owens said. A retainer has been filed, holding him for authorities here after expiration of a five-year sentence on a breaking and entering conviction in Cobb county, Georgia.

The case was turned over to the state arson men by Sheriff LeRoy Retterer last February after circumstances surrounding the fire had been investigated by local officers.

Sought first was Stephenson who left the county shortly after the fire. With the county sheriff's office and Fire Marshals Owens and Michael J. Melillo working together on the case, the man was eventually tracked down in Georgia on April 9.

There, under questioning by authorities, he admitted complicity in setting his mother's house on fire. He also in confessing implicated French, his brother-in-law who lived next door to the destroyed home.

Was Crossing Watchman

French, a crossing watchman for the C. & O. railroad was employed at the Bellefontaine avenue crossing at the time of the fire, subsequently being transferred to a similar job in Fostoria about five months ago, Owens said.

When first questioned last year concerning the fire, French said he had nothing to do with it but was willing to assist authorities in investigating the case, actually hinting to Sheriff Retterer that his brother-in-law might be involved. There was no substantial evidence that he was directly implicated although he was under suspicion all along, Retterer said.

With Stephenson's admission of guilt, the fire marshals immediately went after French, who after questioning in Fostoria also admitted taking part in setting the fire. Each however, says the other put the torch to the house. After signing a written confession French was returned yesterday to Marion by Sheriff Retterer.

Stephenson's motivation in the case was said to concern a $1,000 insurance policy covering the house while French was said to have told authorities his mother-in-law was breaking up his marriage by living right next door.

Vinson "Shut-Up" Command Ends Supreme Court Drama

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30 — An angered Chief Justice Vinson, his gavel banging out virtual "shut up" orders, brought to a dramatic close late yesterday the supreme court's first hearing of a Taft-Hartley act test case.

Vinson, squirming in his high-backed chair at Associate Justice Frankfurter's questioning of a CIO lawyer, broke into the attorney's reply to say emphatically:

"Your time has expired!"

That sharp statement amounted to an order to Attorney Lee Pressman to "shut up and sit down." It also told Frankfurter in effect to "shut up"—the presiding justice wants no more questions and no more answers.

Almost Unprecedented

The tense moments that followed were almost without precedent in the cathedral-like tribunal.

Frankfurter had been contending the government and CIO had joined hands to bring before the court a case involving constitutionality of the labor act's ban on political spending by unions.

The CIO, which maneuvered the test by an intentional violation, and the government, which is defending the spending ban, had been allotted a total of two hours for oral arguments.

The white signal light indicating five minutes of time left had long since turned to red. But Frankfurter persisted in his questioning.

When Vinson stepped in, the CIO lawyer looked at Frankfurter, bowed to the chief justice and sat down.

Climenko Speaks

But Jesse Climenko, a special assistant to Attorney General Clark, jumped to his feet. He had sat silently through Frankfurter's questioning of Pressman and CIO Attorney Charles J. Margiotti. But now he called to Vinson for recognition.

The usually calm chief justice bit his lips, then said once again:

"Your time has expired."

Climenko nevertheless began, "I deplore the accusation——,"

Vinson's face turned white. He pounded his gavel. In cold tone and measured words he said for a third time: "Your time has expired!"

Climenko retreated.

The usually hushed courtroom was in momentary confusion.

Then Vinson quickly called the next case and order returned.

Climenko told newsmen outside the courtroom that what he had tried to say was this:

"I deplore the fact that I have lived to see the day when such a suggestion should be made—a suggestion of pre-arrangement."

There was nothing to indicate that Vinson's anger yesterday stemmed from anything more than his irritation at Frankfurter's protracted questioning.

In fact, Vinson and Frankfurter team with Justice Reed, Jackson and Burton in many of the court's 5-4 splits. In those instances the minority is composed of Justices Black, Douglas, Murphy and Rutledge.

INCOME TAX CUT STARTS SATURDAY

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, April 30—The paychecks of 45 million taxpayers will be fatter after today because of the four billion 88 million dollar tax cut law passed over President Truman's veto.

About seven million 400 thousand workers will be relieved of paying any tax at all.

These are the salient affects which the law will have on the withholding taxes of U. S. workers beginning May 1. Uncle Sam will start taking a smaller cut from wages and salaries paid on or after that date, regardless of when they were earned.

Every one of the 55 million income taxpayers in the country will benefit from the law but only the 45 million subject to withholding taxes will feel the immediate benefit.

Those who make payments on a quarterly or yearly basis will find occasion to rejoice when the payments are made. The next quarterly tax installment is due June 15.

Under the law, taxes will be reduced on a sliding scale from 12.6 to five per cent. Taxes which add up to $400 a year will be chopped the maximum amount. Those who pay $134,000 a year or more to support the government will pay five per cent less.

The new law also extends to all taxpayers so-called community property privileges now enjoyed in only 12 states and raises personal exemptions from $500 a person to $600 a person.

The law is retroactive to Jan. 1 but the taxpayers will have to wait until next year to get a refund for payments made under the old rates during the first four months of this year.

LEWIS SEEKING NEW OPERATOR CONTRACT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—John L. Lewis today asked soft coal operators to meet with him May 18 to negotiate a new contract.

The United Mine Workers' present contract expires June 30.

Lewis said in letters to all coal companies and associations which had signed the current agreement last July that he is ready to start negotiations in the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, May 18 at 10 a. m.

He said the meeting would be "for the purpose of negotiating a successor contract" to the present one.

The UMW chief pointed out that the present contract pledges the parties to attend any conferences under terms of the agreement.

The letter was labeled "Notice" and was dated today, April 30. The Taft-Hartley act requires that either party to a labor agreement, desiring to end that agreement, must give notice 60 days before ending the contract.

Lewis apparently was observing that provision, since his contract with the operators expires June 30.

There was no advance indication directly from Lewis on the nature of the demands he would make of the operators for the new contract.

LIFE SENTENCE GIVEN SLAYER AT MANSFIELD

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., April 30—Clarence Greer today was under a life prison sentence for the shotgun slaying Feb. 9 of Mrs. Ella Owens, 31, and her brother, Ezell Taylor, 35.

Greer pleaded guilty last night before a three-judge court to two counts of first degree murder. The court extended him mercy, saving him from the electric chair.

Members of the court were Common Pleas Judges G. E. Kalbfleisch (Richland county), Clarence U. Ahl (Crawford) and Ralph Sugrue (Seneca).

Mrs. Owens and Taylor were tenants of a house owned by Greer at the time of the killing.

2 CHILDREN DIE IN FIRE

By The Associated Press

Lt. Latimer One of Two Killed in Collision.

Lt. Douglas H. Latimer, former resident of Marion and Kenton was one of two American airmen killed Monday in a collision of their P-47 Thunderbolt fighter planes during a training mission off Guam, according to an announcement made today by the U.S. Far East Air Force Headquarters in an Associated Press dispatch. Lt. Latimer, a combat pilot in World war II still was serving in the Air Force and was stationed in Guam.

The other victim was Lt. John J. O'Brien of Philadelphia.

The news dispatch said the victims' bodies had not been recovered and were not expected to be. The aircraft plunged into the ocean a half-mile off Ritidan Point, Guam.

Nearly 25

Lt. Latimer, who would have been 25 years of age on Wednesday, April 28, was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Latimer of Buck township, south of Kenton. His wife, Thelma, and two daughters, ages four and one, reside at Bettsville, near Mansfield. Mrs. Latimer received notification this morning of her husband's death.

A veteran of 73 combat missions in the European War theater during World War II, Lt. Latimer joined the Army in January, 1942, at the age of 19. Some time ago, following his discharge, Lt. Latimer joined the regular Army.

Lived Here in 1944

Lt. Latimer, his wife and one daughter were residing in Marion in March, 1944, at which time he was awarded his silver pilot's wings and commissioned second lieutenant in exercises held at Napier Field, Ala. They made their home at that time at 1017 Congress street. He was employed by the U. S. Rubber Co. in the operation of the Scioto Ordnance plant.

A graduate of Mt. Victory High school in 1941, he received his air force training at Southern Field, Americus, Ga., Greenwood, Miss., and then at Napier Field.

Surviving are his parents, his widow, who was formerly of Ashland, two daughters, four brothers, Horace of West Lafayette, O., Marion and Hugh, at home, Wayne of Oakland, Calif., and a sister, Mrs. Walter Scott of Buck township.

Truce for Jerusalem Collapses as Arab, Jewish Agents Cannot Agree.

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, April 30—A proposed truce for the old walled city of Jerusalem appeared to have fallen through today when Jewish and Arab representatives failed to agree on terms.

Moshe Shertok, Jewish agency representative, told the United Nations trusteeship council his people would agree to a truce on condition they would have free entry and exit through the gates of the walled city.

Jamal Husseini, vice-chairman of the Arab higher committee for Palestine, replied that these conditions had "blown up the whole scheme" for a cease-fire.

This development came as the United Nations began its third week of debate on the Palestine crisis.

Marion Co. Schools To Send 82 Pupils To Scholarship Tests

Eighty-two students from Marion county high schools will be among the thousands of Ohio high school students competing for scholastic recognition Saturday in the finals of the state scholarship tests.

County students will go to Westerville where finals will be administered at Otterbein College to students from four counties in the 16 county central district.

Identical tests will be given at the same time in six other Ohio colleges and the five state universities for students from the five districts in Ohio and their subdistricts.

Primary objective of the district-state scholarship tests administered by the state department of education is the motivation of greater interest in education among students and more intensive application to their studies.

Preliminary scholarship examinations were conducted in local schools April 9. Students in the upper 25 per cent of the classes in each of the subjects tested took the preliminary exam. Some county schools took a larger percentage. Those scoring highest in each of the subjects were chosen to take the state final.

To Receive Certificates

Twenty-five per cent of the students in the district and 10 per cent of the students in the state will receive individual certificates of recognition, to be awarded for each subject in each of three divisions of schools. Schools are divided according to enrollment figures. First division comprises schools in excess of 400 students, second division, more than 200 and third division, less than 200 students.

Place certificates will be given the first 20 students in each subject, the balance being awarded honorable mention certificates. No individual rankings will be given either schools or scholarship teams.

Each student will compete in only one subject in the finals although preliminary test regulations allowed students to take examinations in as many as four different subjects. Subjects were those being currently offered in grades 9 through 12.

Coledonia with 14 students and LaRue which is sending 13, have the largest number taking the tests. All county schools with the exception of Waldo, Meeker and Kirkpatrick which did not conduct the preliminary exams are sending groups to Westerville.

List of Pupils

Students competing and their subject follow:

HOFIUS, HOBO POET, GUEST

SYCAMORE — The Lions club had as speaker this week Knute Hofius, nationally known "hobo" poet and philosopher, who drifted into town a few days ago. His interview with the local editor resulted in an engagement to speak at the Lions' club. Mr. Hofius says he has been on the road 31 years, after nine years of married life which resulted disastrously when his wife left with another. He has traveled extensively, and entertained the Lions with his poetry, experiences and personal philosophy.

4 CONTESTS TUESDAY ON UNION CO. SLATE

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, April 30 — The '48 political campaign in Union county involves four contests on the Republican ticket, with candidates for 10 out of 11 positions, and on the Democratic side three non-incumbents seeking nominations for three different offices at the primaries next Tuesday.

Clifton L. Caryl is seeking renomination and reelection for assemblyman. Incidently, William L. Coleman, prosecuting attorney, is Democratic candidate for state senator from the 13-31st state district, comprising the counties of Union, Marion, Hardin, Logan, Wyandot, Crawford, and Seneca. Helen Louise Sullivan, incumbent clerk of courts, of Richwood, has no opposition on either ticket.

There is a three-cornered Republican race for the sheriff's nomination: Homer S. Roosa, sheriff; Walter Galloway, and Noah Davis, all of Marysville. The other contests are: for recorder, Lawrence B. Rhoades of Peoria, incumbent, and Thomas Hobart of Marysville; treasurer, Edgar Holycross, Inc., vs. J. H. Davis of York township; probate judge, John W. Dailey, Inc., vs. William J. Porter, both of Marysville.

Two county commissioner nominees are to be chosen at the primaries; there are two Republican candidates; Frank White of Jackson township, and Howard Robinson of Allen township; both are present Union county officeholders.

Luther L. Liggitt, Democrat, is the sole candidate for prosecuting attorney. Other Democratic candidates are: for sheriff, Paul E. Rausch of Marysville, and for common pleas judge, F. Leray Allen of Richwood.

Incumbents having no opposition, Republicans, are Judge R. L. Cameron, Clerk Sullivan, Engineer N. W. Llewellyn, and Assemblyman Caryl. Lloyd J. Wall of this city is a Stassen pledged seventh congressional district delegate to the GOP national convention in Philadelphia next summer, and Warren Widner, also of Marysville, is an alternate.

LAST ONE-ROOM SCHOOL TO CLOSE

To Abandon Campbell Building This Year.

Closing of the Campbell school, last of the rural one room school houses in Marion county, appeared certain today.

The 30-day period allowed residents of the Marion township local school district in which to file a remonstrance against the decision of the county board of education to close the school expired without a legal remonstrance being placed before the county board.

The board decided in March to abolish the school and transfer the 17 children attending grades one to six to the Green Camp school district. Pupils in the higher grades already attend Marion schools.

Transfer of pupils from the red brick school house located on the Campbell road a short distance south of route 95 west of Marion, was set by the county board of education to be effective with the opening of the school year next fall.

Cleared of Charge In Death of Skater

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., April 30—A roller-rink organist and his stepson were cleared of murder charges yesterday in the death of a skater who argued about the merits of "sweet music" over boogie-woogie. The Clark county grand jury did not return a true bill.

Prosecutor Stanley Husted said the state lacked sufficient evidence for a true bill against Douglas Morrow, 40, and his stepson Edward Keater, 18. They were accused of slaying Lee L. Marsteller, 41, last Dec. 16.

GE, Westinghouse Strike Stage Ready

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 30—The CIO United Electrical Workers Union announced yesterday it had complied with all legal requirements that might stand in the way of a strike of its 200,000 members employed by the General Electric and Westinghouse companies and the Electrical Division of General Motors.

The union's national director of organization, James J. Matles, said none of the companies had agreed to meet demands of the workers for "substantial" wage increases.

The union has not initiated a strike vote among its members. Matles said, however, that strike notices required under the Taft-Hartley law have been filed and that the necessary waiting periods have expired.

GE and Westinghouse officials have opposed demands for a new round of wage increases on the ground that they would heighten inflationary trends.

Large Audience Sees Harding Senior Play at Palace Theater

By FRANCES HAAS

A portion of the popular and well-known story of two writers of verse, Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning, was dramatized by 12 seniors of Harding High when the annual Harding senior class play, "The Barretts" by Marjorie Carleton, was presented last night at the Palace theater. The cast, divided equally into six girls and six boys, starred in a creditable performance, and the theater was well filled for the production.

Sharing in the success of the play was the director, Marion Chase, speech instructor at Harding, and production staff committee members and their faculty advisors. In appreciation of his work as director of the play, Mr. Chase, at a curtain call following the play, was presented a gift from the cast. The presentation was made by James Rea.

The entire group was well cast as to role interpretation, and they displayed their acting talents effectively to the satisfaction and appreciation of the audience.

Phyllis Badgley and Joan Glassmeyer were cast in the role of Elizabeth Barrett, the illustrious young English poetess and writer and the eldest of the Barrett children. Miss Badgley portrayed the part at the evening performance, while Joan Glassmeyer played the role at the matinee program.

Plays Part of Browning

Jim Rea portrayed the impulsive, straight-forward Robert Browning, a distinguished poet, while Jim Coss was seen as Edward Moulten Barrett, the father of Elizabeth and monarch of the Barrett household. Marjorie Middleton as Henrietta Barrett, the youngest sister of Elizabeth, Clark Dougherty as Octavius Barrett, Elizabeth's youngest brother, Polly Biggert as Arabel Barrett, Elizabeth's sister, Ronald Holloway as George Barrett, Elizabeth's brother, Fred Lacey as John Kenyon, middle-aged cousin of Mr. Barrett, George Pluchel as Captain Surtees Cook, in love with Henrietta, Janet Ulmer as Miss Mitford, a novelist friend of Elizabeth, Dorothy Chapman as Milly, the Barrett household servant, and Margaret Hamilton as Wilson, Elizabeth's devoted maid. Also a small part was "Flush," Elizabeth's dog, played by "Scherzo," who belongs to Robert Campbell.

Elizabeth's room in the home of her father, Edward Moulton Barrett, was the setting for the play, which took place in the 19th century. Scenery was appropriate to that, the middle 1800's, with old style chairs, tables, lamps, a sofa and high book cases as the furnishings. Costumes were also typical of the same period of time with the girls in the cast wearing full hoop-skirted dresses, and the boys in high collars and tails.

Plot of Play

The story in the play centered around Elizabeth, who, never too healthy, had been kept a prisoner by her domineering father, a Puritan, who ruled his family with unbelievable severity. Elizabeth's brothers and sisters, although delightful and affectionate, had become reconciled to their father's tyranny. However, within Elizabeth there arose a spark of rebellion. This spark was set off by the romantic figure of Robert Browning, who had long known her through her poetry letters. He burst in upon the Barrett household, and in the first scene with Elizabeth, he proclaimed his love for her.

Elizabeth was at first shocked, but when she realized that she too was attracted to the young poet, the world became a different place. Robert inspired Elizabeth with a desire to get away from the oppressive atmosphere of her home, and finally, through his devotion to her, Elizabeth was ready to marry him and run away to Italy. When Mr. Barrett realized what was happening, he did everything in his power to keep the two from leaving. However, Robert and Elizabeth left together.

Although the basic plot was concerned with Elizabeth and Robert, the various scenes were sprinkled generously with humorous incidents which were also well handled.

A crowd of approximately 1,150 saw the performance at night, and at a matinee performance for school pupils, about 600 attended.

Other Seniors Assist

Committees composed of 64 other members of the senior class were headed by Ann LaMarche, costumes; Lola Barnett, make-up; Bernard Lyon, properties, Joyce Snyder, publicity; Jack Hoffman, stage crew; Harold Patterson, tickets; and Ann Ferguson, ushers. Faculty advisors included Miss Rebecca Grove, Miss Dorotay Bloomingdale, Miss Murl Frye, Miss Lucile Foreman, Levi Welch, Miss Minnie Winder and Miss Isabelle Stump.

Music preceding the play and between acts and scenes was by the Harding High school orchestra under the direction of Homer Huffman, instrumental music instructor.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT TRUMAN speaks of this country's "gigantic" atomic energy program.

He did this yesterday in a statement urging the senate to keep the five members of the atomic energy commission in their jobs for up to five years.

But what is so "gigantic" about the program which is under their direction?

That can't be answered fully by an ordinary citizen, since a great deal of atomic work is secret. But some idea of the program's size can be given.

James Marlow

In the first place, this country so far has spent about $3,000,000,000 in developing atomic weapons and other uses of the atom.

To get a wide view, think of a pyramid. On the peak sit the atomic energy commissioners. They're the big boys.

The pyramid has four sides: Medicine, biology, farming, industry. Atomic work is going on in all four of those fields.

And deep within the pyramid, highly secret work is being done on atomic weapons.

THE FIVE COMMISSIONERS have a staff of about 5,000 people directly employed by them. They're the administrative group, of overseers, to keep the whole show running.

About 300 companies—including some of the biggest, like General Electric—have been given contracts by the commission to carry out and develop various parts of the program.

These big contractors have about 60,000 people working on atomic problems.

In turn, the contractors parcel out bits of their jobs to several thousand sub-contractors, who employ thousands of people.

In addition to all this, 53 American universities are directly taking part in atomic work. Others are taking part indirectly, which means a great many scientists working.

THE BIG CENTERS for atomic work are at:

Oak Ridge, Tenn.; Hanford, Wash.; Los Alamos, N. M.; the Argonne National Laboratory, Chicago; the Brookhaven National Laboratory, Patchogue, L. I., N. Y.

The universities are teaming up to do the work at the national laboratories. The government work on atomic weapons is centered at Los Alamos. At the other big centers some huge American firms are doing the job.

So, the atomic work spreads all through the country.

The four sides of the pyramid—medicine, biology, farming and industry—were mentioned above. This will show a little of the work being done in those fields.

MEDICINE—ATOMIC scientists have found that cobalt, treated in a certain way, can be used as a substitute for radium in doctoring cancer, and is far cheaper.

Biology and farming—these fields often overlap. For example: in studying how plants use fertilizer.

Some of the secrets of life may come out of the work being done in those two fields. For instance, if the scientists can find how plants use the energy of the sun.

Industry—work is being done to find a way of using atomic energy to give power. Such power, if found and harnessed, could run ships or cities.

Destiny of America Safe With Bob Taft

IF THE people of the United States were hiring the best man they could find to be the next president of the United States they'd sign up Robert A. Taft.

No other man available for the biggest job on earth has proved himself capable in more ways under greater difficulties than Ohio's senior senator. He is the only man seeking the job with demonstrated ability to hold it down if he got it.

Senator Taft is the leader of his party in congress—chosen by the men with best reason to know what he can do.

He is the most respected spokesman for all the people in both parties who think there should be a philosophy of government in the White House after the November election, as well as a new family.

The Republican presidential nominee this year will be the next Chief Executive of the United States, barring some unforeseen upset. The Truman administration has been scuttled by the bickering members of the coalition that began to break up after Franklin D. Roosevelt's death. It can't win.

There will be no time for the next Chief Executive to grope and improvise. He will have to know what he's doing from the first day he holds the job. If the two-party system ever needed to work, it needs to work now. The "loyal opposition" must be ready to accept responsibility.

Senator Taft has made it clear that he would know what to do. He isn't a theorist spouting glib generalities, but a man who has laid down a program and knows what he wants to do.

HIS position on all issues is that of a classic liberal believing in the greatest liberty for the greatest number. It is in sharp contrast to the tawdry liberalism of the power-hungry coalition crumbling beneath the hammer blows of mistakes that have caught up to it—a liberalism that consists chiefly of being liberal with taxpayers' money.

Senator Taft is one of a few public men who have had the courage to say and do things that might lose votes. He has risked votes at both ends of the political spectrum. If the people were hiring a president they'd look for that kind of courage.

Even Senator Taft's enemies respect him for this. It has made him their worthiest antagonist—a status they recognize by concentrating their fire on him. It does no credit to other members of his party when they take advantage of this to draw favorable attention to themselves by gestures of appeasement.

It is regrettable that Harold E. Stassen has tried to undermine the solid support that Ohio Republicans would have given Senator Taft automatically in an uncontested bid for Republican delegates. But there has been one good effect.

What would have been otherwise the formal support of Republican voters in Ohio is going to be their dynamic support. Senator Taft is going to win Ohio's confidence the hard way—but the convincing way. The Ohio delegates who go to Philadelphia next June committed to him will know when they get there and delegates from other states will know it too. That Ohio Republicans really believe in their candidate for the presidential nomination. He will be a candidate who has pinned down a strong challenger in a knock-down-and-drag-out contest.

HIS record will have stood the test of fire in a state that never takes presidential politics lightly. It will be a vote of confidence in Taft's ability to lead, in his intellectual honesty and in the kind of a public man who refused to wheedle votes at the expense of principles.

Dorothy Thompson wrote a few days ago: "The Republicans have been out of power so long that they seem to have lost faith in themselves and in their natural and proven leaders. Otherwise they would not hesitate to nominate Senator Taft. He is by all odds their strongest character, finest intellect and most experienced statesman . . . I believe no candidate is more certain to protect the constitutional republic. None is more profoundly anti-imperialist; none is less likely to blunder us into war; and none more certain to fight for limited and reasonable objectives if war comes. I find myself somewhat astonished at my own conclusions, reached after much thought. Perhaps others will come to the same conclusions with equal astonishment. The times call for sobriety."

Voters in the Ohio Republican primary next Tuesday can prove to themselves and the nation that Republicans have not lost faith in themselves or in their natural and proven leaders.

They can show their respect for a man who has served America faithfully, intelligently and courageously. They can set an example for the Republican convention.

The United States needs a Robert Taft. He is the kind of a president the people would hire if presidents were hired to manage the country the way it deserves to be managed.

Ohio Republicans can do their part to make such a man available for the job by sending him to the Philadelphia convention with a full vote of confidence.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

The Case of Our Increasing Number of Old People.

THE doctors praise themselves for making lives longer, but that is only half the problem. The other half is to be able to earn a living. In the good old days before the new philosophy, men believed in thrift. They saved for their old age. They saved for independence.

Then along came the demagogues with their ideas about security—government-provided security—and they raised taxes until it has become increasingly difficult to save.

SOKOLSKY

It is estimated that by 1960, the number of persons 65 years of age and over may reach 18,000,000. If improvements are made in the treatment of cancer and heart diseases, that number may be higher. At present, those 65 and over are 10,000,000. In 1960, the oldsters will number one-fifth of the productive population (20 to 64).

The most astonishing feature of this problem of longevity is that so many men and women over 65 are so very young in their attitudes, their ability to work, their capacity to get around. The years a man bears are only related to old age if the individual actually grows old, which means literally that he is wearing down.

Job Difficulty

Yet, we come up against the curious phenomenon that men of 45 and over are finding it difficult to get jobs, probably because some personnel men hit upon that age as a formula. Personnel men in industry have a way of making their jobs easier by using those business machines that punch holes in cards and that give them statistical guides which are wholly unrelated to facts concerning an individual human being. But it is the individual that is being employed, not a statistical entity.

The "Federation Employment Service" in New York, which is devoting itself to this problem, writes me:

"Middle aged and older men and women are experiencing great difficulty even in today's labor market in securing suitable employment opportunities because of employer reluctance to hire them. At forty-five years of age the average man still has ahead of him over twenty-five years of life, and has need for productive and remunerative employment. Various surveys made show that older workers are as productive, are absent less, and have less accidents; and that many industries rate them as more loyal and conscientious."

We might as well put it bluntly: if we are going to establish it as a rule that men cannot work in industry after 45 or 55 or even 65, because their birth certificates make them appear to be old, then the doctors might just as well stop keeping us alive longer. For no real man wants to live a dependent life — dependent upon his family or the state. A healthy, strong, capable man, of whatever age, wants to be independent. He wants to be productive.

Major Weakness

One major weakness in our society is the increasing repugnance for experience. Youth knows it all—particularly college - trained youth who read books by professors who change their minds with what they call "The Changing Times." Experience often shows that the ephemera of fashion change with the mind. For instance, three years ago anyone who did not believe all the elegiac untruths about Soviet Russia that were hurled at us as war propaganda was a traitor. Today anyone who still repeats the stuff is headed for the concentration camp. Are these young men and women to be held responsible for the lies their teachers taught them?

The person of experience weighs the facts of life in the balance. He is not as likely to be whisked this way and that by a poll or the speech of a statesman. Experience can only come with years. It takes a great many mistakes to teach a man that all is not gold that glitters, that all is not truth that is plausible. When experience is thrown to the winds, wisdom goes with it. And it is an unwise nation that finds itself without defense or that spends itself into poverty. That, for instance, is why James Forrestal has the courage to turn down excessive appropriations. He has been around long enough to know that we can spend so much in anticipation of war to have nothing to spend when war comes.

Basing a B-36 Behemoth

New Landing Gear May Simplify Task.

THE AIR FORCE is trying to find out what kind of air base the B-36 needs.

There has been a general impression that only three or four airports in the United States can handle the 278,000-pound plane, the largest bomber in the world. If that were true, it might limit the use of the B-36, which the air force says can carry a bomb 10,000 miles. And it would also mean a tremendous job of building bases.

However, early impressions about B-36 runway requirements were based largely on its original landing gear. The two main wheels were nine feet in diameter. Each tire weighed 1,400 pounds, each inner tube 225 pounds.

But since the first B-36 rolled out, the landing gear has been changed to one which uses four wheels on each side. It is known as a dual tandem or truck-type gear. Each tire is 56 inches in diameter.

The new-type gear distributes the load over a larger area and reduces the runway strength requirements. Furthermore, it weighs 2,600 pounds less than the original gear. Roland G. Mayer, manager of the Consolidated Vultee plant at Fort Worth, where nearly 20 of the 139-ton bombers have been built, says the B-36 can use any airport the B-29 or its successor, the B-50, can use.

Air force officials say this is probably true, but they are not willing to state it as a fact until tests with the new landing gear are completed by the air materiel command at Wright Field.

Meanwhile design studies are being made of a track-tread or caterpillar-type landing gear—resembling a tank track—for use on the B-36. Such a gear is now being adapted to a smaller plane. With the track-tread, a large plane may be able to land on a firm beach, in a large field or on snow. Some officials say preliminary indications are that big planes will be able to fly out of mud fields.

Prospects are that track-treads will provide much better braking than wheels, and cause little loss of efficiency on the takeoff. The B-36 is designed to take off from a 5,000-foot runway, but it is likely to be operated only from much longer runways. Those at the big air bases in Maine, South Dakota and Alaska have 10,000-foot strips.

Runways are a relatively simple part of the B-36 basing effort. This giant has a wing span of 236 feet and is 163 feet long. Its tail rises 47½ feet. Its big belly holds 72,000 pounds of bombs, and the tanks in its wings hold 21,116 gallons of gasoline and 1,200 gallons of oil.

Storage tanks for a group of 30 planes in peace time of such bombers would be tremendous. Work stands to permit reaching engines, propeller, tail sections and fueling connections are larger than for other planes, and special equipment is being designed. The cost of such equipment and the limited number of B-36's on order make it unlikely that many bases will be equipped to house the new bomber.

Imagine Dewey
In A Taffeta Homburg

A Hollywood designer is reported doing a land-office business in taffeta hats . . . for men.

Whoops, my dear! We sure come a long way from the coonskin cap.

Hollywood has been getting away with murder. But the kids down at the Bijou are going to rise up in revolt the first time Trigger comes galloping up with Roy Rogers wearing a ten-gallon taffeta.

If this fad catches on, congress had best investigate the millinery rather than the military influence.

In addition to the taffeta model, also being shown is a white felt beret with a shaving brush feather. If the wearer carries a razor, he'll have no more excuse for five o'clock shadow.

I may be wrong, but I still can't believe the men of America will be gullible enough to let a thing like that go to their heads.

Sales Tax Rush

Some 90 U. S. cities—most of them in California—are expected to collect an estimated $90,000,000 from local sales taxes in 1948.

The Municipal Finance Officers Association reports that a number of California cities with sales taxes has risen to 84, at the latest tally, and the number is still increasing.

Local taxes on sales in California will yield some $25,000,000 this year, according to current estimates.

New York's per cent local sales tax yielded approximately $30,000,000 last year. Los Angeles' and San Francisco's sales taxes are both one-half of one per cent levies and are expected to yield $7,000,000 and $6,000,000 respectively in 1948.

The Denver, Colo., sales tax was amended recently to exempt food, food products, drinks and prescription medicines from the one per cent levy. Syracuse, N. Y., and New Orleans also are among cities with local sales taxes.

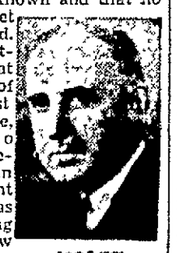
Creeping Paralysis

By RAYMOND MOLEY

A DOCTOR'S life has many grim moments, but none is so difficult to face as a diagnosis of the disease called multiple sclerosis. The doctor knows a number of things that he can tell the patient. He can say the disease attacks the central nervous system with insidious but relentless effect, that it raises havoc with the victim's bodily functions, that it is progressive, that its cause is unknown and that no cure has yet been discovered.



MOLEY

We are witnessing a great concentration of public interest in heart disease, cancer, polio and other enemies of human beings. Recent investigation has begun to bring out, in a few scattered checks in this country, that MS is perhaps as common as polio. In some European neurological institutes, it is more common than any other disease affecting the nervous system.

The MS victim knows it all began with slight impairments of motion, that these troubles spread to the hands, arms and legs, that vision became tricky and that the voice from time to time blurred and thickened. The victim knows, further, that the invasion also affects the normal activities of several internal organs.

The doctor knows that case histories show that death seldom comes with the disease itself. Flashes of recovery sometimes occur, and improvement may be noted for some time, but generally the course of things moves downward into helpless immobility.

Differs from Polio

The attack differs from that of polio. That disease strikes suddenly and maims, but ordinarily it is not progressive. The victim, as in the case of F.D.R., can settle for what nature spares. Life, conditioned by limited motion, can go on. In MS, the enemy stays, the war is truceless, and the mind must grapple with the dread of new attacks. If all the devils had met in council, they could not have conceived a greater affliction than this trick that nature has produced.

In the current Reader's Digest is an article about MS by the sharp pen of Paul de Kruif. He does not minimize the terror of the disease, but he opens a small window of hope. There is no cure, but there can be helpful treatment in the field of rehabilitation. Henry J. Kaiser Jr., himself a victim for the past 13 years, has been arousing interest in the West. Dozens of rehabilitation centers will ultimately be essential in building even a small meaure of help for the many victims of the disease.

The National Multiple Sclerosis society, whose office is at the Academy of Medicine Building in New York City, is the national center for the fight against MS. This society has a strong medical advisory committee and is promoting basic research in the causes and treatment of the disease. It particularly seeks membership among patients. It wants to know who and where the victims are. It is gathering funds for approved projects of research. And it is promoting the expansion of public knowledge about the sinister and growing scourge.

The state of medical knowledge of MS is about where that of tuberculosis was before Koch discovered the t b bacillus in 1882. Let us hope that 66 years will not pass before this new plague is brought under control.

Summer Pests

The tick and chigger season soon will be here and science has at least one new weapon to combat such pests.

The new weapon is a chemical compound proved in field tests by army volunteers serving as "guinea pigs." They wore clothing treated with the chemical compound and let the ticks jump on them.

The chemical compound does the trick. It knocks over the ticks and the chiggers.

This compound is known technically as butylacetanilide. The results of the newest experiment were published in U. S. Public Health reports, and were a followup of an earlier test of the compound and several other compounds that had shown promise against the tick.

The tick often times carries disease, and chiggers have long been a nuisance to blackberry pickers and those who like the outdoors.

The volunteers in the most recent test were enlisted men from the 32nd Medical Battalion, Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

Sixteen uniforms were treated in pairs, each pair with a different repellent, while four were left untreated as controls. The subjects were not told which uniforms were treated and which were not treated.

At the end of each day, the ticks on each uniform were counted. It was found that those treated with butylacetanilide provided "complete protection."

Army on Unions

While strikes are spectacular and make the headlines, the great majority of labor-management disputes are settled peacefully, says Army Troop Information Bulletin No. 220. The bulletin is one of a series the army uses in conducting weekly current events discussions throughout the service.

The latest pamphlet traces the history of unions and labor legislation. It asserts that collective bargaining holds the answer to most, if not all, industrial relations problems. The bulletin says that a distinct labor party has not developed in this country because the unions have chosen to seek their objectives by supporting men favorable to their cause in the established parties.

The barometer was invented in 1643 by Toricelli, a pupil of Galileo.

Social Affairs

THE seventeenth anniversary of the founding of Beta Sigma Phi sorority was observed by Eta, Delta Beta and Xi Upsilon chapters with a dinner last evening at Hotel Harding. At this time also the group conducted installation ceremonies, a pledge service and the ritual of jewels. The table was lighted with yellow tapers and places were marked with address books bearing the names of the members.

The welcome was extended by Miss Betty Smith and the founder's day message was given by Mrs. Lillian Gibbon, president of the City council. A history of Beta Sigma Phi was given by Mrs. Dorothy Wyrick. Miss Betty Jenkins presided as mistress of ceremonies. Music during the dinner hour was by Miss Virginia Grover, pianist.

Mrs. Gibbon presided for the installation of officers in Eta and Delta Beta chapters. Installed with Mrs. Helen Petrich, president of Eta chapter were Miss Irene Cunningham, vice president, Mrs. Patty Ann Ruckman, recording secretary, Mrs. Mildred Ranck, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Elnora Dunlap, treasurer. Miss Dorothy Turner was installed as president of Delta Beta chapter, Mrs. Norma Walker, vice president, Miss Doris Newman, recording secretary, Mrs. Jean Bonecutter, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Thelma Lautenslager, treasurer.

The pledge service was read by Miss Turner, assisted by Miss Jenkins for Mrs. Margaret Dripps, who was pledged to Delta Beta chapter, and Mrs. Helen Petrich, assisted by Miss Mary Clark and Miss Jenkins presided for the ritual of jewels. Initiated were Mrs. Helen Schiffbauer, Miss Newman and Miss Lois Parks. Mrs. Elma Morrison presided at the piano.

The sorority, with a membership of more than 60,000, is the largest non-academic sorority and has chapters in the United States and foreign countries. Arrangements for the affair were in charge of Mrs. Gibbon and members of the City council.

NEW "MISS MARKER"—Filmdom's new "Little Miss Marker," 5-year-old Mary Jayne Saunders of Pasadena, Calif., smiles as she holds her $125-a-week contract, approved in Los Angeles superior court after her selection from among 5,000 children to play the role Shirley Temple made famous 15 years ago. The contract calls for $1,250 weekly in seven years.

MEMBERS of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers club were joined by guests when they met for luncheon and a program Wednesday at Hotel Harding. Green and yellow streamers down the center of the table were combined with bouquets of sweet peas and candles in pastel shades to carry out the table decorations and places were marked with nut cups decorated with umbrellas.

Speaker for the afternoon was B. R. Hurst, who gave a talk and demonstrated the making of corsages. The flowers were presented some of the guests following the talk. Mrs. Jules Kepling, Welcome Wagon City hostess presented the following guests: Mrs. Robert A. Bagley, Mrs. M. J. Melillo, Mrs. John Boyd, Mrs. Holland Robb, Mrs. F. J. McGinley, Mrs. L. F. Bentz and Mrs. K. C. Dean.

Hostesses were Mrs. Kermit Smith, chairman, Mrs. L. W. Kohlhorst, Mrs. Leonard MacNail, Mrs. L. W. Keith, Mrs. H. J. Felber and Mrs. Ernest L. Davis.

Mrs. Mary Jane Elsey of Alpha chapter, Gradale sorority, was elected president at a meeting of the Woman's council, Monday night in the women's clubrooms at the YMCA. Mrs. Betty Austin of Beta chapter, Gradale sorority, was elected vice president, Miss Martha Fabian of Zeta Theta chapter, Alpha Iota sorority, secretary, Mrs. Florence Windhurst of the Marion Unity Center, treasurer and Miss Maxine Dune of Alpha Iota sorority, reporter. Representatives named were Mrs. Martha Reed; Mrs. Garnet Simmons, Mrs. June Castner and Miss Elizabeth Ballenger of Alpha chapter, Mrs. Austin, Mrs. Norma Jacob and Mrs. Joan Terzo of Beta chapter, Miss Fabian, Miss Dune and Miss Mary Louise Himmeger of Alpha Iota sorority and Mrs. Hoover Brown, Miss Donna Mae Harriman and Miss Stella Fisher of Unity Center.

At a meeting of the Wide Awake club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Marie Eshman on Monroe street, a gift was presented Mrs Caroline Neimeyer in honor of her birthday anniversary. Honors in euchre went to Mrs. Maude Whiteman, first; Mrs. Emma Slagle, second and lone hand; and Mrs. Nell Cromer, third. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Omar Dulin of 248 Chestnut street.

Eleven members of the two chapters of Gradale sorority here attended the annual Gradale sorority spring conference held Sunday, April 25, at the Seneca Hotel in Columbus. Representing Alpha chapter were Mrs. Gerald Smart, Mrs. William Oldaker, Mrs. Richard Meister, Mrs. Charles Keller, Mrs. Carroll Elsey and Miss Catherine Watson, and present from Beta chapter were Miss Ruth Davis, Mrs. John Austin, Mrs. Thomas Fetter, Mrs. Chris Marcetto and Miss Joan Dixon

Miss Watson, state primus, presided for the meeting which was attended by approximately 75 Gradale members from Chillicothe, West Jefferson, Washington C. H., Newark, Canton, Massillon, Tiffin, Steubenville, Portsmouth, Dayton and Marion.

A charter was presented to the newly formed chapter at Dayton by C. J. Stoakes, assistant area executive of the YMCA in the Ohio-West Virginia area. Main speaker for the conference was Miss Virginia Hughes of Dayton, who was a delegate to a youth conference in Oslo, Norway, recently. Reports were given by each chapter on its activities.

First prize in a point system for activities went to the Washington C. H. chapter and second to Marion, and a mileage contest was won by Canton, first, and Steubenville, second. A talk was also given by Mr. Stoakes on the growth of Gradale.

At a banquet at noon, the tables were decorated with large bouquets of jonquils and lighted by white candelabra. Favors were miniature corsage holders. Decorations were in charge of Canton Alpha chapter, and programs were prepared by Miss Christine Proudfoot of Steubenville, state corresponding tribune.

Moving pictures of interesting places in the state of California were shown to members of the Clionian club at their meeting Tuesday night at the Federation Home. The pictures were taken by Dallas Harruff of Marion on his trip through the west. The program topic was "The Sunshine State." Papers were presented by Mrs. Gladys Arter on "Off for California," and by Mrs. Robert Graham on "Movieland." Refreshments were served in the form of a box social by the hostesses, Mrs C. R. Pennisten, Mrs. Lloyd Pickering and Mrs. Hugh Ray.

Mrs. Ivan Huntsman entertained the Three G's club Tuesday evening at her home on Barnhart street. Guests were Mrs James Gast and Mrs. William Osterholt Jr. and son, Michael of Eglin Field, Fla. Mrs. Kenneth Collins, president, was complimented with a personal shower. Contest prizes were won by Mrs. James Sautter, first and Mrs. Osterholt, second, and in bridge, honors went to Mrs. Alvin Budd and Mrs. George Lehner. The next meeting will be May 25.

Miss Jackie Riddle was taken in as a new member when members of Nu Phi Mu sorority met Tuesday evening April 27, in the AMVETS clubrooms on North Main street. Miss JoAnn Boyd and Miss LaVada Ellison were presented membership pins. The next meeting, May 11, will be a social meeting at which time election of officers will be held.

Mrs. Pauline Snyder entertained the Seven Stitchers club Wednesday afternoon in her home at 478 Avondale avenue. A special award went to Mrs. Josephine Hayner. Mrs. Mary O'Brian was a guest. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Hayner. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Blanche Clark of 356 Monroe street.

As a courtesy to Miss Rita Hut, a bride elect of next month, Mrs. George Shoup entertained with a shower in her home at 229 East George street. The honor guest found her gifts in an umbrella decorated in keeping with the pink and white color scheme which was carried on the refreshment table with pink and white candles and streamers, and a pink and white four-layer cake. A bridge prize went to Miss Barbara Axe, and a penny and thimble baked in the cake were found by Mrs James Foley and Mrs. Shoup respectively. Mrs. Foley is the mother of Miss Hut's fiance Martin Eugene Foley of Marion. The wedding will be an event of May 14. Miss Hut is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Hut of Lafayette street. An out of town guest was Mrs. Jane MacAndrews of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Lillian Graff was hostess to the Mystery club Wednesday evening in her home at 183 Fairview avenue, with Mrs. Dorothy Beckel as co-hostess. Mrs. Pauline Barnhouse was in charge, and devotions were by Mrs. Beth Monk. Contest honors went to Mrs. Ida Mossbarger and Mrs. Ruth Sautter, and Mrs. Eva Parish and Mrs. Esther Ireland were consoled. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Vena Miller of 288 Forest street.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Bentz of 260 Kensington place recently returned home from a months trip through Mexico. They were taken on a conducted tour through the country.

Weddings

A gown of duchess ivory satin was worn by Miss Jean Pauline Leser for her marriage to Maurice J. Tobin, Saturday morning, April 17, in St. Mary Catholic church. Rev. Hugh Murphy, assistant pastor, read the ceremony and was the celebrant for the nuptial mass at 9:30 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Leser of 781 Henry street and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Maurice J. Tobin of 498 Oak street and the late Mr. Tobin.

The bride was escorted to the chancel by her father, and preceding her to the altar were the bridegroom's sister, Miss Theresa Tobin of Cincinnati, who was the maid of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Robert Johnston, also a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Margery Thiel of Upper Sandusky, a cousin of the bride.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a high neckline, and the long fitted bodice was accented at the hipline with a polonaise drape. The long sleeves were fitted and ended in points at the wrists and the skirt extended into a modified train. Her fingertip veil of English imported illusion was caught with a halo of pearlized orange blossoms and her bouquet was of white roses. She wore a rhinestone necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

The attendants gowns were in colonial style. The maid of honor was in orchid and the bridesmaids wore yellow. Miss Tobin's bouquet held yellow snapdragons and white iris and the same flowers fashioned her tiara. Orchid snapdragons with white iris were combined in the colonial bouquets carried by the other attendants and their headdress matched the flowers in the bouquets.

Frank Tobin of Chicago, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and ushers were the bride's brothers, William E Leser and Larry F. Leser. Serving at the altar were Pat Tobin, Robert Tobin, brothers of the bridegroom, James Moloney, a cousin of the bridegroom and Richard Schuler

St Mary choir sang the "Mass in Honor of the Holy Rosary" and for the offertory "Panis Angelicus," by Cesar Franck. Hymns were "O Lord I Am Not Worthy," a traditional melody and "Jesus My Lord." Before the ceremony the choir sang "A Song of Hope," Diggle, "Moonlight," Frysinger and "Berceuse," Thompson. Miss Rosaline Manzo was at the organ.

Decorations on the altar were tall vases filled with white stock and greenery.

The bride's mother wore an aqua crepe dress with black accessories and Mrs Tobin was costumed in a dark blue redingote costume with black accessories Both wore corsages of Talisman roses

Following the ceremony there was a breakfast at Greenwood Inn for the immediate families and guests, and in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Leser were hosts at a reception from 2 to 4 o'clock at their home. The table was centered with a tiered wedding cake decorated with a miniature bride and bridegroom and completing the decorations were tall lighted tapers and white stocks. Assisting were Miss Elizabeth Haberman, Miss Grace Crizer, sorority sisters of the bride and Miss Helen Logsden of Upper Sandusky, a cousin of the bride

The couple spent their honeymoon in the east. For traveling the bride wore a two-piece gray suit with black accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. They are at home at 498½ Oak street.

The bride was graduated from St. Mary High school and attended St Mary of the Springs college at Columbus. She is a member of Zeta Theta chapter, Alpha Iota sorority. She formerly was employed as a secretary with the Huber Manufacturing Co. The bridegroom was graduated from St. Mary Parochial High school and is district sales manager for the Poorman Mfg. Co. of Quincy, Ill. During World War II he served with the Army Air force.

The rehearsal party was held Friday, April 16 at the home of the bride's parents with Mrs. Albert Thiel of Upper Sandusky as hostess. The bride's gift to her attendants were rhinestone brooches and the bridegroom presented the best man with a billfold and the ushers with tie pins.

Guests from out of the city included Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seifert, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thiel and son, Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fisheer and daughters Ann and Carol, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seifert and son, Donald, Mrs. Hilda Seifert, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Logsdon and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leser, Stark Leser, Mr and Mrs. Harold Koehler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Logsdon, Miss Eleanor Grundistich, Mrs. Fred Pl... Unbelievable Feat Accomplished by Girl

Defies Death and Injury on Spike Table

Laying upon a bed of needle sharp spikes and covered with a blanket of sharp penetrating spikes, Josephine the Hollywood Glamor Girl Dare-Devil permits a solid rock, eleven inches thick and weighing 125 pounds to be broken upon her body with a 10 pound sledge hammer.

This is but one of her many death-defying thrillers that will be shown during her appearance at the Palace Theatre in the stage Show "Laugh and Thrill Sensations of 1948" that offers midnight shows Friday and Saturday, under the auspices of the UnderPrivileged Children Fund of Marion. Special children's matinee Saturday morning at 9:30 will provide a program and gifts for the kiddies.—Adv.

NEW TAX TABLES GIVEN EMPLOYERS

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—All necessary withholding tables needed by employers to put the reduced tax rates into effect on Saturday have been printed and distributed.

"If any employer has failed through inadvertance to receive them he should request them immediately from the collector of internal revenue in his district," George J. Schoeneman, internal revenue commissioner, said today.

The revised instructions and forms for persons paying on a quarterly basis have also been printed. They will be mailed late in May to taxpayers who owe a June 15 installment. Other taxpayers—those who did not previously file an estimate in March—can get them from the nearest collector's office.

"The new withholding rates apply to all wages and salaries paid on or after Saturday, May 1, regardless of when they were earned," Schoeneman expained.

"Although withholding was at the old rates between Jan. 1 and May 1, no refunds can be paid until final income tax returns are filed after Jan. 1, 1949," he emphasized.

The treasury estimates that 45,000,00 are on the pay-as-you-go withholding system. The $4,800,000 tax cut will not lay any additional paper work burden on taxpayers covered by withholding in most cases. The law provided, however, additional $600 personal exemptions for persons over 65 and blind persons. These taxpapers should file new exemption certificates with their employers.

Of some 75 essential oils used in the manufacture of perfume, only eight are produced in the Western hemisphere.

Cincinnati Enquirer For Sale by Trustees

By The United Press

CINCINNATI, O., April 30—The Cincinnati Enquirer, 107-year-old newspaper published by Roger Ferger, was offered for sale today by trustees of the estate of the late John Roll McLean.

The Enquirer, Cincinnati's only morning newspaper, was put up for sale by the trustees after its worth had grown until out of balance with the rest of the McLean estate.

Trustees offered the estate with the stipulation that all bids could be rejected if less than the $10,000,000 value placed on the paper.

Prospective purchasers reportedly include Frank Gannett, a newspaper chain publisher; the Ridder brothers of New York and Minnesota; Silliman Evans, publisher of the Nashville Tennessean; and Ferger, who would be backed by Cincinnati capital.

Heirs of the McLean estate are Edward B. and John R. McLean, grandsons, and Mamie Spears Reynolds, granddaughter of the late Evelyn Walsh McLean.

FOOD PRICE INDEX SLOWS DOWN TREND

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 30—Food prices eased this week in many sections and volume of buying increased.

Many small independent stores reported sales were higher. Whole-salers said inquiries from grocers were more numerous than last week and dollar sales volume was sharply up from a year ago.

Canners reported buyers more active and abandoning the pessimism of recent weeks. Bargain hunters were looking for carry-overs if prices were lower than anticipated costs for new packs.

The food component of The Associated Press wholesale commodity price index was at a new low for the year, 145.12. The index is based at a new low for the year, 145.12. The index is based on 100 for average 1926 prices. A week ago the food component was 150.62 and a month ago 147.71. The year's high was 165.58 Jan. 2.

The total wholesale cost of one pound each of 31 commonly used foods was $6.76 Tuesday, Dun & Bradstreet reported. The previous Tuesday it was $6.85, and a year ago $6.02. The only foods to advance in price over the previous Tuesday were beef, ham, cheese and rice.

In the New York retail markets the price of steak was cut as much as 10 cents a pound today and ground beef four cents a pound.

Wholesale butter prices were also down about one cent a pound in New York.

Unhurt Vets Favor Aid for Disabled

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 30—Veterans of World War II, who came out of service without disability, favor by a large majority a program of dependency allowance and increased benefits for disabled veterans, a nationwide survey has revealed.

The Disabled American Veterans' national headquarters here conducted the survey in connection with its campaign to have congress pass a bill which would provide dependency allowance for service-connected disabled veterans.

APPEALS RULING CONCURS

BUCYRUS, April 30 — A decision by the Crawford county court in the damage action of Ralph D. Winch against Albert Krawetzki of Sandusky, was upheld by the Court of Appeals at Lima, according to minutes received by Clerk of Courts Joe Royer. The local court awarded a verdict to the defendant for $1,700 on his cross petition. Pending is a $5,000 damage action brought by Mrs. Krawetzki against Winch. The suits are the outgrowth of an automobile-truck accident on route 4 near Brokensword in January 1946.

TRUMAN TO REQUEST ARMS LEND-LEASE

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, April 30 — President Truman will ask congress next week to back western Europe with American guns, planes and tanks as "military insurance" against Communist aggression, informed sources reported today.

The President, it was said, will send the lawmakers a special message on Monday or Tuesday asking military lend-lease for the 16-Marshall plan nations.

Highly placed congressional sources said the program would receive early senate and house consideration in an effort to complete action before congress' scheduled June 18 adjournment date. Senate President Arthur H. Vandenberg already has consulted twice with Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett on the proposal.

The new project would be aimed at backing the 51-month program for European economic recovery with American assistance on the military front. The President, it was said, will ask for no commitment at this time to pledge America's armed forces in event of war in Europe.

Details of the new proposal were a closely guarded administration secret, shared only by top policy-making officers.

SEEKS NEW CONTROLS. Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas (D-Cal.) is shown with some of the $17.36 worth of groceries she brought to the attention of the House of Representatives. The purpose of her move was to impress her colleagues with "how little one can buy for too much" since the expiration of OPA controls in 1946. She is backing a price control measure in her fight against runaway inflation.

Dispute on Work Rules

The main dispute, however, is believed to hinge on various changes in working rules proposed by both sides.

Shields said that the unions were determined to stick by their demands. He declined comment, however, on what progress was made during meetings yesterday with Douglass.

Shields is chairman of a special negotiating committee which is representing all three of the brotherhoods in the meetings here.

Douglass said he had found the brotherhood officials "cooperative and willing as always."

He repeated that the nation "can't stand a national railroad strike, and it's not going to."

He said he was keeping the White House informed of developments "but not with any thought that it take any action, unless we find we can't settle the dispute here."

Former Beauty Queen Mother of Triplets

By The United Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30—Mrs. Robert A. Nolan, 29, a three-time beauty queen at the University of Kentucky, gave birth to triplets yesterday, it was revealed today.

The tiny babies, two girls and one boy, were doing well today in incubators at St. Joseph's infirmary. Each weighed more than three pounds. They have not been named yet.

Mrs. Nolan was the former Miss Jeanne Barker, an outstanding student at the university, from which she was graduated in 1940.

The Nolans have two other daughters, Mary Jeanne, 4, and Kathleen, 2.

When Mrs Nolan graduated from the university, she was named senior woman most outstanding during her college career and received the Algernon Sydney Sullivan award.

Nolan, an architect, was graduated from Notre Dame university and served three years in the Pacific as a navy lieutenant in the last war.

CIO AUTO WORKERS SET CHRYSLER STRIKE

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 30—The CIO United Auto Workers today scheduled a strike May 12 of 75,000 employes of Chrysler Corp.

The walkout, if called, would be the first on a large scale in the industry since the costly strike by General Motors Corp. employes in 1945-46.

The UAW-CIO asks for Chrysler workers an hour wage boost.

Affected would be 18 Chrysler plants, 14 in Michigan, three in Indiana, and one in California.

The union's top policy committee approved the strike deadline on recommendation of its national Chrysler director, Norman Matthews. He said the company has refused union wage demands without raising car prices and still would make a profit "any business man can envy."

The UAW-CIO will continue negotiations with Chrysler until the strike date, he added.

Former C. of C. Head Victim of Assault

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 30—Police today expressed belief a "hot-headed motorist" might have been responsible for the severe beating given Sam W. Emerson, 69, former president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce.

A prominent contractor, Emerson suffered scalp lacerations and a possible fracture of the left cheek bone Wednesday night when attacked by two men.

The attack occurred, Emerson said, when he got out of his car after it was hit in the rear by another vehicle. One man in the other car immediately struck him and later another joined in the tussle.

Army Finds Ie Shimans Devoted to Ernie Pyle

By The Associated Press

OKINAWA, April 30 — The gentle, industrious folk of Ie Shima are paying continued tribute to the champion of the universal GI guy — Ernie Pyle.

The Army announced a handful of buddies went over to the small, nearby island for memorial services April 18 — third anniversary of the correspondent's death by a Japanese machine gun bullet.

They found the residents already had lain freshly cut flowers around the white picket fence surrounding the shaft raised to Ernie by men of the 77th Infantry division. The Ie Shimans participated in the memorial services. They said they bring flowers each week.

11 SYNODS VOTE

PHILADELPHIA, April 30 — Eleven of the 34 synods of the Evangelical and Reformed church have voted to unite with the Congregational Christian churches, Rev. William E. Lampe, secretary, said today.

"All of the 14 have voted favorably by large majorities," Rev. Lampe said. "Five of them approved unanimously in favor of the union."

The final vote of the Congregational Christian churches will be taken at the meeting of the general council at Oberlin, O., June 17-24.

ENDS RED BOYCOTT. Ending the UN Trusteeship Council, Semen K. Tsarapkin (above), Soviet Consul in Washington, has been named as Russian delegate. This action gives Russia a voice in the Palestine problem and was seen as a move to place Red troops among any international police force that might be sent there. A seat on the Council at Lake Success, N. Y., has been vacant since the Russians began their boycott in 1947.

Driver Fined $250 And Sentenced to 90 Days

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, April 30—Frank Stewart, 25, of Shelby was sentenced to serve 90 days in Delaware county jail and was fined $250 by Justice E. Clifford Giltner here yesterday after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Stewart's car ran off route 42 south of Delaware Tuesday, smashing into a filling station and injuring the station attendant, Norton Sebring, 60.

MARK MOTHER'S DAY

A program on a Mother's day theme was presented when the Unity Bible class of Wesley Methodist church met Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Clarence Cramner on Bennett street. Mrs. R. E. Davis presented a poem, "The Preacher's Mother" by Grace N. Crowell, Mrs. Charles Clark and Mrs. J. M. Edington sang a duet. For devotions, the twenty-third Psalm was said in unison, and Mrs. Fred Upton offered prayer. A humorous reading was by Mrs. Wilson Massie. Contest prizes went to Mrs. R. A. Titus, and Mrs. C. J. Eddy. The social committee included Mrs. William Moten, Mrs. Darius Moore, Mrs. Massie, Mrs. Eddy, Mrs A. D. Busler, and Mrs. Alberta Nash., Mrs. Bertha Osborn was a guest. The annual class banquet and memorial service will be held at the church May 25.

CHOSEN BEE INSPECTORS

BUCYRUS — Appointment of John Danner and James Boydston, both of Galion as Crawford county bee inspectors this year was announced today by the state department of agriculture. The appointments were made by county commissioners, subject to state approval.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 30—Stocks hit another uneven road in today's market with a number of leaders making narrow advances.

Oil shares, one of the most active groups in recent sessions, again took over leadership. They were joined in the climb by some of the aircrafts and farm implements, among others.

Chrysler dropped slightly as setting of a strike date by its union workers appeared probable unless wage settlements were reached today.

Also touching news tops for the year or longer were Sinclair Oil and Santa Fe. Others higher included Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Lockheed, Standard Oil (N.J.), Mission Corp., J. I. Case, Oliver Corp., Dupont, Coca-Cola, U. S. Rubber, Bethlehem, and Westinghouse Electric. Slipping at times were Firestone, Atlantic Coast Line, Chesapeake & Ohio, Owens Illinois, Anaconda Copper and National Distillers.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION TEACHING DISCUSSED

Six courses of action open to communities desiring to promote religious education for their children, in the face of the recent U. S. supreme court decision against religious interest classes in the public school, were discussed at a meeting of the Wednesday Noon Bible class this week Dr. Benjamin F. DuVal, Columbus minister, spoke. The luncheon meeting was held at the YMCA. Dr. DuVal recommended the following procedures.

Use of non-school time, he said, could include cooperation of the school in dismissing early, or opening early for religious classes, with a room or rooms of the school rented by a week-day religious education sponsoring group for that time. The local religious education program in the churches can be strengthened. Larger programs of summer vacation Bible schools and day camps available, counseling of religious leaders with parents, guidance of children in the homes, using of small groups for instruction, similar to the cub Scout setup, and better use of the radio for religious stories, were also listed.

He said that though the supreme court decision is altogether "unclear", all religious education groups are being urged to recognize its authority. For the next luncheon meeting, Lester L. Dickey, superintendent of Marion city schools, will be the speaker.

I'm sure you'll like Ford's new 4-Speed Transmission

• Maybe you enjoy slow farming . . . but there's no money in it. If I can show you faster farming . . . with no more work, you'll be interested, won't you?

All right, just take one feature of the Ford Tractor, the 4-speed transmission. On the road I'll give you up to 12½ miles per hour. In third speed (top field working speed), I'll give you 6 miles per hour. And so on down . . . each speed, even the reverse, is faster. Saves lots of hours in a year.

Won't you let me demonstrate this Ford Tractor (and its Dearborn Implements) on your farm? I have something special in parts and service, too.

Studies of Sun Eclipse To Help In Directing Guided Missiles

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, April 30—The first eclipse of the sun to have military value since the one that stopped a war in 585 B.C., takes place in the Pacific ocean May 9.

This eclipse will produce means for more accurate shooting of guided missiles and of ocean-spanning rockets.

In 585 the eclipse took place in eastern Anatolia, during a battle between Lydians and Medes. As Herodotus tells it:

"Just as the battle was growing warm, day was suddenly turned into night. This event had been foretold to the Lydians by Thales of Miletus. When the Lydians and the Medes observed the change, they ceased fighting and were alike anxious to agree upon peace."

Herodotus says peace was made.

The announced purpose of the May 9 eclipse observations, as told by the National Geographic Society, sponsoring the expeditions, and Popular Astronomy, is more accurately to determine the shape of the earth and better to locate any desired point on the globe's surface.

At present such location is done with errors ranging from several hundred feet to one mile. It is hoped to reduce these errors to not more than 150 feet.

For military purposes, a calculation error of one mile in location of a distant target, is an added aggravation in a problem already near the limit of solution. A mile miss may not seem much in a 3,000-mile shot, but it is a good error to get rid of. Even a present-size atomic bomb could lose much effectiveness by a mile miss.

The astronomical observations will be made from seven stations along the path of the eclipse. The start is in Burma, where the eclipse first shows, the end of the track in the Aleutian islands, 5,320 miles away, five hours later and one calendar day earlier. The shadow starts on May 9 but crosses the international time zone to finish May 8.

Method of Timing

All stations will time the moment when the edge of the moon appears to touch the face of the sun, and again when the edge of one leaves the edge of the other as the eclipse ends.

Two stations, in Hokkaido, Japan, and Korea, will use this data to measure the exact distance of the moon from earth during the eclipse. This distance varies. Triangulation will give it precisely, at something around 240,000 miles.

Knowing this distance, the precise timing at the ends of the eclipse track, the moon's speed, shadow-speed, earth's speed of rotation and speed of light, calculations are expected to give new earth shape and distance standards.

The May 9 eclipse is not total, but annular, meaning the sun shows a ring of fire all around the moon. The moon will be too far away to completely hide the sun's face.

Shoran, a recent development of radio, which enables radio stations to fix accurately the positions of planes in the air, will add insurance to the calculations. Two U. S. airforce B-29's are to be over the Aleutians, where clouds may interfere with ground observations. Cooperating also are the U. S. army map service, engineers and signal corps, Navy, U. S. bureau of standards, coast and geodetic survey and state department.

TESTS SHOW NO TB

IBERIA — Dr. H. M. Hartsook, county health commissioner, notified Supt. Earl E. Bowman this week through the county health nurse Mae Tisdale, that the TB patch test conducted in the lower 8 grades of the school was successful in that not one positive case was manifested. The county health officials commended the local school for the good health records and cooperation in the various health activities.

Patrol Reports Eight Traffic Charge Arrests

Eight arrests resulting from minor traffic violations were included in a report by the state highway patrol yesterday.

William Miller of Sebring, arrested on an excessive speed charge at 10:15 p. m. Wednesday on highway 42, was fined $20 and costs on a plea of guilty in Mayor Bennington's court in Mt. Gilead. Miss Mary Jacoby of Lakewood, arrested on a similar charge at 3 p. m. on the same route, was fined $10 and costs when she pleaded guilty.

Mrs. Carolyn Capko of Cleveland was fined $10 and costs, charged with operating a vehicle without benefit of driver's rights at 5:45 p. m. Wednesday on highway 42. She appeared before Mayor R. B. Shaw of Ashley.

Robert Perry of near Nevada paid a fine of $5 and costs to Mayor Ed Naus' court in Upper Sandusky, following his arrest on route 23 at 7:45 a. m. on a charge of failure to obey a stop sign.

Paul Ballinger of 116 Park Boulevard was cited to appear in municipal court May 1, following his arrests on route 23 Tuesday on a charge of no driver's license. Mrs. Dorothy Elkins of Huntington W. [illegible]uppose any man in [illegible]s a smaller income [illegible]r worries about it [illegible]ed South Dakota's [illegible]ureate—a title that [illegible]payers nothing as he gets no pay.

Hal Boyle

"The Badger," is a tall, distinguished man with a van dyke beard who wears a flowing green necktie, forest green jacket, whipcord breeches, and polished riding boots. For 25 years he has lived alone and liked it in a "cabin with four rooms and a path" he largely built himself in the Custer State park. He pays $10 a year ground rent and hasn't held a steady job for 43 years—since he was 22.

"I escaped early," he smiled. He told me of his semi-hermit life as we lounged in the state game lodge. Calvin Coolidge's summer white house in 1927, after dining on tender but rough-grained buffalo steaks.

His cabin is known as "Badger Hole," and he has the neighbors he wants—buffalo, deer and birds. He feeds all he can with his small income.

"THE BIRDS MAKE a cloud about my head when I step outside," he said.

Badger has written some 200 poems and 30 short stories. He is a kind of western-style Rudyard Kipling and at least two of his "verses"—as he prefers to call them—have become national anthology favorites. They are "The Job" and "The Cowboy's Prayer."

His books have brought him little money, however, and for many years he said he had been earning his way "by my jaw." By this he meant the speeches he makes to banquets women's clubs, and high school and college groups. He doesn't seek out these engagements. People come to him.

"I'VE SHUCKED OFF the things I don't need," he said. "I believe that by reducing life to its simple terms you get more out of it. It's like chewing a crust of dry bread. A hungry man finds in it all the flavor he needs.

"I believe with Thoreau that a man is rich in proportion to the number of things he can afford to let alone.

"I can live on $500 a year comfortably today—even on $400. I can't afford to be in debt and won't be. If I want something and can't pay for it, I do without it until I can. The only thing I have against poverty is that I can't afford all the wonderful books I'd like to have."

Clark bathes in a washtub, cooks his own meals and eats only twice a day to cut down on the time required by housekeeping chores. His cabin, kept spotlessly neat, is lighted by a kerosene lamp. It has no telephone, no radio.

THE "BADGER" LIKES individual people but dislikes cities. He goes to town only once every two weeks to buy supplies and stays only a couple of hours.

"I have given up many things—fatherhood, society, financial success. But I enjoy my life to the limit. What am I looking for? I suppose it is God. What else? There are times when I would like to be with people — with my friends—but I am never really lonely. Life is a habit. And I feel I am the happiest man in the Black Hills."

Clark at 65 is still a handsome man. I asked him why he had never married.

"I am very frank about my income," he smiled. 'That does the trick.'

STOLEN COW, CALF HUNT EXTENDS FAR

Information received by Sheriff LeRoy Retterer today indicates that cattle rustling is not limited to the "wild west" in these motorized times.

The sheriff is quite accustomed to getting wanted notices on missing persons but today he received one on a cow and calf offering $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the rustlers and recovery of the missing bovine and her offspring.

The animals were stolen from the farm of T. J. McGinnis near Robertsburg, W. Va. on the night of March 30.

Her official description is as follows:

Age, 7 years; weight, approximately 850 to 900 lbs; stock, Black Pole and Guernsey or Jersey; color, black except for white on front part of udder, udder rather large, well attached behind and in front; small 5th teat just behind two back teats. This small 5th teat can be milked, back straight, head small, short, "top not" appearance between ears—Never had horns (natural mulev) Eyes bright. Disposition gentle.

Description of calf:

Born March 16th; sex, heifer, color, black, except both hind feet are white and up of tail is white for four inches.

Any district farmer who is approached by anyone attempting to sell this cow or calf are urged to contact neither "Gangbusters" nor the FBI, but call Sheriff Retterer immediately so the rustlers may be apprehended before any local livestock is pilfered.

Roesch receptionists. The unit is sent out to counties by the State Health department, cooperating with the Morrow county Tuberculosis Health association which sponsors the TB Christmas Seal campaign.

Quaker Oats Company Employe Is Honored

F. C. Van Noy, department supervisor of the canning and shipping department of the local plant of the Quaker Oats Co. was honored Wednesday night by a banquet at Hotel Harding in celebration of his thirtieth anniversary of service with the company.

Warren Smith, Rockford, Ill., manager of the kennel products division of the company, presented Mr. Van Noy with a diamond award marking his long service. La Verne Kreuter, local plant superintendent, congratulated Mr. Van Noy on behalf of the company and his fellow workers at the Marion plant.

Mr. Van Noy during his 30 years with the firm has worked in the company's plants at Waverly, N. Y., Grand Island, Neb., and Rockford, Ill., before coming to Marion two years ago.

Mr. Van Noy resides at 621 East Center street. Fifteen Quaker employes attended the banquet.

Brotherhood Rally Set at Cardington

A rally for Brotherhoods and Young People's and women's organizations of congregations of the Marion district, Evangelical United Brethren church, will be held in Cardington Sunday night at the school building, Rev. Clayton Strawser of the Oceola-Mt. Zion charge, district leader, announced. From 5 o'clock until 7, lunch will be served, from 7 until 8, three group meetings, and at 8, a general assembly meeting will be held in the school auditorium. The executive committee will meet at 6:15.

Special speakers will include Judge Constance Keller of Bucyrus, who will address the women's session and Dean C. E. Ashcraft of the Bonebrake seminary at Dayton, who will give the 8 o'clock address. Rev. Don Hochstettler of Marion will talk at the youth rally. A panel discussion on "Need and Activity of the Brotherhood" will be featured at the Brotherhood meeting. Delegations will be present from churches of the Cardington charge, Bucyrus, Hepburn charge, Marion, Oceola-Mt. Zion, Smithville, Sycamore, West Mansfield and North Robinson. Clifford Hoover of Mt. Zion is president of the district Brotherhood; Jay Holloway, West Mansfield, Young People's group; and Mrs. Milten Harmon, Mt. Zion, women's organization. The meeting will be open to the public, Rev. Strawser stated.

Zeke Bekeza's Triple in Seventh with Bases Filled Gives Marion Win Over Richmo

3-Bagger Halts Hitless Streak; Cubs Earn 10-6 Win Over Braves

By BILL DIEM

Marion Cub Manager Zeke Bekeza went up to the plate at Lincoln park last night riding a zero for 11 batting slump and in quest of his first safety in the Ohio-Indiana league.

It was in the seventh inning and Richmond was ahead, 6 to 4, but the bases were loaded by virtue of Ramon Peet's double and two walks off pitcher Jim Herndon, and Bekeza faced relief hurler Ray Bradford.

Zeke swung twice and fouled into the dirt twice and looked a couple over, but on the next pitch he made up for his early poor showing at the plate by walloping a ball into right center field that bounced into the wall for a solid triple, scoring Peet, George Hansen and Lou Castrovince with the winning run.

Bill Bolduc scored Zeke with a fly out into deep left field and the Cubs collected two more in the eighth off four singles to win their second victory in three starts, 10 to 6.

Nick on Hill Tonight

The Cubs will attempt to take a second game from Richmond tonight when Nick Alivojvodick takes the mound at 8 o'clock in Lincoln park.

Cub twirler, Ramon Peet, at 19 years of age the youngest man on the 20-man squad, allowed nine hits in his first appearance in professional baseball, but only two of the Richmond runs were earned.

Peet walked the first man he faced, but launched a successful double play when the second man popped to him attempting to bunt and Peet snapped the ball to Bekeza on first for the double.

The third man up, Jack Regan, got on first when George Hansen bobbled and he scored an unearned run when Bob Fruciano tripled. Fruciano, who bats left, collected two more singles in four more trips. He came home when Bill Brady singled.

The Braves made three runs in the third off a collection of four singles, a wild pitch, a stolen base and an error.

Richmond catcher Al Yearlick scored their final tally in the sixth when he reached first on a fielder's choice and scored on a pair of errors.

Score in Second

The Cubs scored in the second when Bill Bolduc doubled and Bohlander singled him home, and they started a rally in the fifth that gave Bekeza his first chance to become the hero of the night.

Charles Borden led off in the fifth with a walk, streaked to third when Pete Schnopf singled and came home when Tom Gatts hit into a forceout at second. Peet singled Gatts to second and he moved to third on a wild pitch. George Hansen walked, filling the bases, and Lou Castrovince, sent in for Tom Neely, singled Gatts home, leaving the bases full.

Bekeza flied out to the third baseman for the second out and Bolduc flied out to centerfield, leaving the three men stranded.

Bill Bohlander opened the sixth with a single to right field and scored on a pair of errors.

Cub shortstop Pete Schnepf, though charged with three errors in the early part of the game, also his first in professional baseball, settled down later in the game and made a sensational play in the final inning when he stopped a ball hit to his right by Jack Regan and threw to second in time for the first out of a double play. Hansen's throw to Bekeza on first ended the game.

Pitcher Hal Luddy came in for the Braves in the eighth, and Schnepf greeted him with a single. Gatts' safety moved him to third, and Peet brought him home with a third bingle. Gatts moved to third when Hansen grounded out and stole home for the final run when Luddy took a lengthy windup.

Only 437 paid to see the Cubs' thrilling seventh inning uprising, but the small attendance was blamed on the cold yesterday

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

Batting — Hank Sauer, Reds, broke up 14-inning game with single after his eighth inning homer had tied score in Cincinnati's 5-4 edge over St. Louis.

Batting — Lou Boudreau, Indians, collected homer, double and two singles, driving in three runs as Tribe won sixth straight.

Pitching — Joe Page, Yankees, shut out Washington for four hitless innings to gain first win of season on relief, 5-4.

MESSNER SHUTS OUT HARDING ON 1 HIT

Ashland Ace Also Homers as A's Win 8-0.

Marion Harding suffered an 8-0 defeat at the hands of the Ashland A's yesterday afternoon as pitcher Dick Messner allowed only one hit for the Prexies while his mates accumulated nine. Messner was practically the whole team for the A's in the encounter, scoring two runs, striking out 11, and homering in the fourth as the A's rapped out six consecutive hits and scored six runs.

The first run came in the second when Messner reached first on a single, stole second, and came in on two outfield flies. A last run in the fifth came on a walk and two singles.

The Prexies' only first came in the error department as they bobbled only one while the Ashland squad fumbled two. Second sacker Thomas was the spoiler as he connected for the one Harding hit.

The Harding diamondmen played the game without the services of Jim Rea, second baseman, who was taking a part in the Harding senior play, and Jim Hill who was sidelined with a spiked ankle. Wolfe, a sophomore, holding down the hot third base corner, was neat in handling six chances without an error.

Hill, who has been sidelined with a spiked ankle since the Mansfield game early this week, may be ready for action Monday. Dick Wolfe has been handling third base duties in flawless style during Hill's recovery.

The Prexies, now showing a record of two and two, will be gunning for their third win when they play host to the Tygers

Harding won their first game, 19-3, against Waldo and the second, 15-5, over Caledonia They lost to Mansfield, 2-1, and dropped to the .500 mark yesterday when they were shutout 8-0 by the Ashland A's.

Just a Matter of Waiting Until Derby Time Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30—Frankly, there's not much important left to be said about the 1948 Kentucky Derby until the cream of the three-year-olds go out and get it over with in a couple of exciting minutes tomorrow afternoon about 4.30 p. m. (CST), (5:30 p. m. Marion time).

It still looks as though only four colts will dare tackle the Calumet Farm bundle of double-trouble, Citation and Coaltown at Churchill Downs. The answer will come when the entry box opens and closes today. All the owners have to do is plank down $1,000 each and take a shot at the best part of $100,000.

With only six probable starters, officials at Churchill Downs will decide today if they will eliminate place and show bets.

Jammed trains, planes, buses and other conveyances keep coming with people in them, all eager to get sardined into the rest of the crowd, expected to swell to 100,000.

Prices Go Up

Prices are taking the expected upward curve, yet nobody seems to mind. The Derby comes just once a year, so it's fun while greenbacks and strength hold out.

It isn't difficult to determine the ones they're going to sink the bankroll on. The visitors clutter up the premises around the stalls of Citation and Coaltown, Warren Wright's Derby darlings. The two are the only ones who don't know they are destined to be the shortest-priced favorites in Derby history.

Another fair representation of the curious hangs around barn 16, a quarter of a mile up the way. They want a glimpse of Ben Whitaker's My Request and W. L. Brann's Eccadru, stabled at opposite ends of the barn.

Billings Close By

Hard to locate, but right close by is Billings, the big hope of R. W. McIlvain. Billings is cooling out after a gallop and a groom slowly leads him around the inside stable area.

Several barns over from Calumet a limousine rolls up with a chauffeur up front and his passengers asking where can they find Grandpere. It's not hard to track down this California colt. Neatly folded blankets on a rail bear the letters "JPA" for his owner, Mrs John Payson Adams —the former Muriel Vanderbilt.

Making the rounds, about all that develops is another quick look, some dusty shoes and lots and lots of fresh air!

Nenoff Recaptures Belt at Armory

Steve Nenoff recaptured his championship belt at the Armory last night, taking Gene Blakely in the first and third falls of the main wrestling match with two half-crabs.

Al Alexander took the second and third falls of the one-hour match from Len Hughes, who always before wrestled in a rough style, but last night played it clean to give the fans the best match of the evening.

James Stewart, alias Mickey Mouse, and Richard Douce, or Sluggo Jones, wrestled to a draw in the 10-minute preliminary.

Ernie Lombardi Is Back with Sacramento

By The Associated Press

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 30 — Ernie Lombardi is back with Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league after changing his mind on retiring from baseball.

"The Nose" asked Monday for voluntary retirement so he could be near his wife, ill in an Oakland hospital. She underwent a successful operation Wednesday. Today the slugging catcher said he will finish out his first year away from the majors.

PORTSMOUTH WALKS TO HEAD OF LEAGUE

Takes One-Half Game Lead Over Marion, Muncie.

By The Associated Press

Portsmouth, only undefeated team in the Ohio-Indiana baseball league, perched alone atop the standings today, a half game above Marion and Muncie.

Lima and Zanesville, tied with Portsmouth until last night fell into a three-way deadlock with Springfield for fourth place after a night of zany play

In a manner of speaking Portsmouth walked to the top of the standings, for three Zanesville pitchers handed out seven oases on balls and one hit in the first inning last night That added up to five runs and an easy, 8-4 victory.

Marion clubbed out a 10-6 win over Richmond, Muncie hit Lima for a 14-5 verdict and Springfield turned back Newark, 4-3, in a 12-inning thriller.

The Portsmouth - Zanesville game was without a doubt the wildest melee of them all Five Zanesville and two Portsmouth pitchers elbowed a total of 28 bases on balls.

In the 12-inning battle at Newark, Springfield won the game with Jim Caito's single to left field, his theft on second and Pat Knox's hopper through shortstop that knocked Caito home.

Carl Bush, Muncie's first baseman, banged the night's only home run, although it was strictly unnecessary because his team held a 12-3 edge at the time A mate was aboard Chuck Dettrey kept six hits by Lima batsmen well scattered

At that, Manager Zeke Bekeza of Marion's Cubs spotted a more potent wallop—a triple with the bases loaded The three- in three-base blow gave Marion its winning edge.

The scores:

MILLERS GAIN 2ND IN ASSOCIATION

By The Associated Press

Minneapolis, riding high on a seven-game winning streak, was in second place in the American Association race today.

The Millers, two games in back of Indianapolis, get a chance to reduce the margin further today in their series opener with Columbus as the Indians are idle

Minneapolis marked up its seventh straight yesterday by defeating Louisville 8 to 6 for a sweep of the three-game series. The win and St. Paul's defeat put the Millers in the runnerup spot, with the Saints dropping to third

In other league games, the minor league champion Milwaukee Brewers edged out Toledo 5 to 4, Columbus blanked St Paul 5 to 0 and Indianapolis downed Kansas City 4 to 2.

Trailing Toledo 4 to 2, when they came to bat in the ninth, Milwaukee rallied against Joe Ostrowski A double and four singles produced the three game winning runs.

At St Paul, Jack Crimian held the Saints to five hits in dealing them their first shutout of the season He walked four and struck out eight All of Columbus' five runs came as a result of home runs by Bill Costa, Bill Baker and Tom Giaviano.

Earl Turner's ninth inning double scored the two runs Indianapolis needed to notch their third straight triumph over Kansas City. It was the Blues' seventh consecutive defeat.

Lou Boudreau, Batting .519 for Indians, Is Solid Argument for Player-Managers

The Guy Veeck Wanted To Trade Leads American League in Batting

By The Associated Press

Lou Boudreau, batting .519 for his unbeaten Cleveland Indians, is a solid argument for the survival of the player-manager in the major baseball leagues.

Most of the big leaguers who still combine the two difficult jobs feel Boudreau almost lost his portfolio last fall. Only a flood of protests aroused Tribe fans induced owner Bill Veeck to call off a proposed trade with St. Louis.

Instead of a trade, Boudreau was signed to "virtually a two-year contract," according to Veeck.

The "dividends" of bossing the Indians to six straight wins have mounted so heavily on Lou that he has been able to hit safely only 14 times in 27 at bats. This is tops in the league. With nine runs batted in, he is tied for the lead. His shortstop work remains unchallenged.

Boudreau pounded out four straight hits, including a double and home run in yesterday's 5-2 victory over the St. Louis Browns. The win now needs only three more triumphs to tie the modern day record for wins at the start of the season.

Bob Lemon went the distance for Cleveland yesterday, giving up eight hits to record his second triumph of the season.

Yanks Edge Nats

The New York Yankees got the Joe DiMaggio-Joe Page combination working for a 5-4 edge over Washington in 10 innings. The result moved the Yanks into second place, going into the important three-game series with the Red Sox at Boston today.

Homers by George McQuinn, Charley Keller and Yogi Berra weren't enough for the champs. They had to go an extra frame and finally won on DiMaggio's long fly with the bases loaded and none out.

Page relieved Frank Shea, who was in trouble again by giving seven walks. Lefthanded Joe Haynes picked up his first win on four hitless innings.

Boston cut loose with a barrage of homers—one each by Ted Williams, Sam Mele, Joe Dobson and Jake Jones—to smother Philadelphia, 11-5, although they were outhit by the A's.

Eddie Mayo's error on Don Kolloway's grounder enabled Chicago to down Detroit, 5-4, for their second victory. Catcher Aaron Robinson had a perfect day for the Sox with three hits, including a homer and double.

Bums Wallop Giants

Ebbets Field proved to be the same old unhappy hunting ground for the New York Giants. Brooklyn smashed the leaders' six-game winning streak with a 17-7 shellacking.

Preston Ward, Dodger rookie first baseman, homered with the bases loaded and Pete Reiser drove in five runs with a homer and triple.

Pittsburgh climbed into second place on another fine mound job by veteran Elmer Riddle. He scattered seven Chicago hits for his second win, 4-2.

Rookie Hank Sauer enjoyed a field day in Cincinnau's 14-inning 5-4 nod over St. Louis. Sauer tied the score with a homer in the eighth and won it in the 14th with a single. He had four hits, boosting his average to 364.

Freak homers by Dick Sisler and Harry Walker enabled the Phillies to edge the Boston Braves, 4-2.

BOY, 3, DIES IN FIRE

By The Associated Press

HILLIARD HARNESS DEADLINE TODAY

Special to The Star

COLUMBUS, O., April 30 — Harness horsemen have until today to meet the entry deadline for 12 early closing events to be staged at the initial night pari-mutuel meeting of trotters and pacers a Hilliard Raceway. Racing is scheduled for June 12 through July 3.

A total of approximately $75,000 in early closers and overnight events will be racing during the 19-night stand at the Hilliard oval. Early closers pack purse values that range from $1,000 to $2,000. No overnight event will be for less than $400, with special overnight features to be arranged as the meeting progresses, according to Earl J. Coburn, president of the Columbus Trotting Association, sponsor of the nocturnal race meeting.

Hilliard Raceway is going through the process of being revamped. Floodlights are being installed, making it one of the best lighted tracks in the nation. New barns are being constructed and the old ones are being repaired.

John W. Dailey of Columbus is the racing secretary.

Sees Citation As Odds-On Derby Winner

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK—More than 47 per cent of the favorites have won the Kentucky Derby. There's little reason to believe Citation will not hike up this percentage by winning on Saturday, May 1.

Citation should go to the post odds-on in the 74th running of Col. Matt Winn's run for the roses at Churchill Downs. It may be that he will get such terrific support at the mutuel windows that he will cause a minus pool in the show wagering.

Racetracks have been known to lose money when Citation runs. In his first 14 starts, the Calumet Farm colt by Bull Lea—Hydroplane II has either been first or second. He won 12 of his first 14, ran second in the other two.

His form has been so consistent that betting men have really plunged on him to finish in the money. In two races within six days at Havre de Grace, the Maryland track lost $35,466 because of the tremendous support Citation received.

Bettors are guaranteed 10 cents on a dollar in place and show pools. That's better interest than you get in any bank and horsemen are beginning to believe that "it's money in the bank" when Citation runs.

In one of Citation's races the field was small and there was no show pool. But there was a minus place pool when $142,594 out of a total place pool of $155,594 was wagered on Citation. This cost Havre de Grace $20,226.

Five days previous, Citation cost the track $15,242 in a minus show pool.

Since only two odds-on favorites out of 24 have finished out of the money in the Derby, citation money probably will be bet heavily across the board. Ten odds-on choices have been beaten in the Derby but eight of them were either second or third.

Of all the post-time Derby favorites only 15 out of 73 have been worse than third.

Citation is the only three-year-old to show this spring that he can run the Derby distance of one mile and quarter. This should be another reason for him to be heavily played.

TAXI MANAGER HELD

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., April 30—State liquor agents arrested a taxi company manager yesterday, a week after nabbing seven cabbies on charges of illegal sale of intoxicants. Inspectors charged Stanley Bronstrup, 40, manager of City Cab Co., with keeping a place where liquor was sold without a permit. He posted a $300 bond.

Redlegs Beat Cardinals, 5-4

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 30 — The Redlegs of Cincinnati, playing like a team in the pennant stretch drive, have moved within the shadow of first place.

The Rhinelanders, concluding a two-game set today with St. Louis, had to travel 14 innings yesterday before downing the Cardinals, 5-4, and that victory left them just a game and a half out of first place. They trail second-place Pittsburgh by 11 percentage points.

Two newcomers to the Cincinnati lineup, left fielder Hank Sauer and center fielder Johnny Wyrostek, stole the show in the longest game to date in the young National league season.

With the chips down in the final frame and Wyrostek on second by virtue of a double, Sauer lined a sharp single to left bringing home his garden mate with the winning marker.

Sauer had sent the game into extra innings with his fifth home run of the campaign, a blow which gave him leadership in the league's circuit blow department. Wyrostek connected for his second homer of the year in the third.

The Cards' Stan Musial staged a show of his own, driving in all of the St Louis runs. He clubbed a two-run homer in the fourth and then singled home the other two in the fifth.

90-Foot Antenna Pole To Go Up Tomorrow.

Two-way radio communication between taxi and dispatching office is under installation by the Safety Cab Co., 319 West Center street, it was announced today.

The company plans include installation of radio equipment in 10 cabs, installation of transmitter equipment in the dispatcher's office and erection of a 90-foot antenna pole beside the office.

Equipment should be in operation in about two weeks, company officials said. Erection of the antenna pole which includes a 30-foot steel antenna mast mounted atop a 85-foot wooden utility type pole, is slated for tomorrow. Installation of radio receivers and transmitters in the cabs is under way at the present time, it was indicated. The system will operate on the frequency assigned police and other cab companies in Marion.

Ohio Warning Issued On Potato Labeling

COLUMBUS, O., April 30—Ohio housewives were cautioned today to check the labels on potatoes before buying.

Amos R. Meyer, chief of the agriculture department's bureau of markets in Columbus, stated that some potatoes were inadequately marked and should be reported to the bureau.

Meyers said that proper labeling consists of three items: the name and address of the producer; the weight or count, and the grade.

Bureau inspectors are checking retail stores to halt further sales of improperly marked potatoes.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"YOU and your detours!" Dickey scoffed in a whisper, but he squeezed my arm as he said it, before he could give the necessary directions to Joe, however, I spoke quickly.

"I have another brain wave," I whispered, and Dicky cooged melodramatically.

"You'll nonchalantly grab the atom bomb some day," he whispered, "and then it will be curtains for both of us. But I'm listening."

"Charlie Kent is right near the main road as we get into Bridgehampton," I told him. "Joe can pull the car virtually out of sight around the corner, and one of us can go up to the door, and get Charlie out. As the town's best taxi man, he's used to having people come every hour of the night and day. He can telephone our florist without having anybody listening in getting suspicious and tell him he's bringing somebody out to see him who's tried to get in touch with him who couldn't get hold of him, but who must see him before he goes back to New York.

"We really will save time," I went on, "because we can get Charlie out in a second or two, while it might take a long time to rouse the florist. This way he'll be waiting for us, and when we get near the house, Charlie can take me in his car down to see the florist, while Joe turns our armored car around, and has it ready for the dash to New York."

"Wonderful plan," Dicky said, "and I subscribe to it with one amendment. You're not getting out of this car tonight. Gus can ring Charlie Kent's doorbell—he knows him—and tell Charlie to dunk round the corner to the armored car, where you can give him your message about the florist. And Charlie can bring the florist out to the armored car—Joe can turn it around and head it toward New York while the procession is forming and you can talk at your leisure.

"I know the protest that your beautiful curved lips are about to utter," he went on so quickly that I had no chance for interruption, "and I'll answer it before you get it framed in suitable language for my innocent ears. You do not want the men to hear your confab with the florist. They won't. I'll have them all pile out of the car, and stand guard outside. I'll go farther than that. Should you want your interview a deux, I'll pile out myself, and you can hold hands with him undisturbed."

"He's in his seventies," I snapped, with one of the irrational answers which Dicky's nonsense sometimes provokes.

My husband chuckled. "Some of them are the best handholders going," he said. "They've had so much experience I shall hate to trust you with him but who am I to—"

"You'll stay right in this car," I told him. "What on earth would the man think if you didn't?"

"That's right," he said gravely. "He might suspect you of designs upon him."

I was almost helpless now from laughter, irritation, and the effort of carrying on a whispered conversation. I gave him an exasperated little shove with my elbow.

"Please get up in front and tell Joe where to stop at Charlie Kent's," I whispered. "I want to get my breath."

"I haven't noticed your needing it," he retorted with a gamin grin, but he rose promptly and going to the front of the car, gave the necessary directions to Joe. The driver nodded, and we proceeded on our rapid and careening way to the wide driveway back of Charlie Kent's garage, well-sheltered from observation by any casual street passer-by. Then, while Joe skillfully turned the car around, Gus went to the front door to ring the bell. I was not surprised to see him emerge from Charlie Kent's back garage door under the taxi man's escort. Charlie is too shrewd to call possible attention to us by going out into the street. Dicky held the door open, and they both climbed into the armored car.

"Well, well!" Mr. and Mrs. Graham," Charlie said warmly. "If you're not a sight for sore eyes. What can I do for you?"

BIRD HOUSE CONTEST WINNERS CHOSEN

Fish and Game Event Awards Made to Boys.

Winners of the Marion County Fish and Game Association's bird house contest were announced today by Carl H. Lehner, contest chairman.

The three first prize winners of the three age groups of the contest were David Axtheim, 10, of 286 Elm street; Edward Collins, 13, of 458 North State street, and Rollie Harris, 13, of near Marion. Each first prize winner was awarded $10 in cash. All other winners received sports equipment.

Other winners in group one, ages 6 to 11 years, were Francis Mahoney of 222 Park boulevard; Robert J. Dickerson of Caledonia; James Atkinson of 773 Bellefontaine avenue, Vernon Beyer of 603 Oak street, Billy Wulhoop of 568 Monroe street, David Young of 344 Monroe street, Joe Millison of 405 North Prospect street, Allen Davis of near Marion, and Edward Dendinger of 629 West Columbia street.

Other group two winners, boys aged 12 to 16 years, were Don Raleigh, Harold Waterhouse of 149 North Seffner street, Darrel Fish of 1095 Bennett street, Stanley Seiter of near Prospect, George Shetterley of 232 Wallace street, and Tommy Leaner of near Caledonia.

Group three winners, boys 13 to 17 years, were James Stewart, Carl Waterhouse of 149 North Seffner street, George Atkinson, Bob Keggan of 482 Courtland Terrace.

Judges for the contest were Kelly R. Vance, Earl N. Hale and J. W. Schwaderer. General committee for the contest was Carl Lehner, chairman, Harold Lauer, Leroy Retterer and Lloyd Amrine. All of the winning birdhouses are now on display in the windows of the YMCA on South State street.

CHOOSING DAIRY QUEEN

GALION, April 30 — Robert Eichorn heads officers of the Galion Junior Chamber of Commerce installed at the Ladies' night meeting this week. Charles Hinckley, retiring president, was in charge. The Jaycees plan to cooperate with local dairies in holding a contest to choose a Galion girl to participate in the state dairy queen finals for National Dairy Week. Committee members of the contest are Robert Metzger, Melvin Enders, Robert Thomas, Vaughan Miller and Charles Hinckley.

To Discuss Nursing With Marion Pupils

Girls of Harding High school, interested in going into the nursing profession will have a chance to learn about the opportunities offered today in such a profession when Mrs. R. E. Raitz, R. N., of Cincinnati, visits the school Friday. Mrs. Raitz, representing the Jewish Hospital school of nursing in Cincinnati, will meet with all girls interested during various periods throughout the day and will discuss both the studies and the extra-curricular activities of student nurses today.

Through her talk, Mrs. Raitz will show how the increase in the number of hospital patients has created new opportunities for nurses. She will discuss the many fields open to today's nurses, including public health nursing, psychiatric nursing and care of children.

To Select Participants In County Gilt Contest

Youths who will participate in the annual pure bred gilt raising contest of the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce will be selected May 4, it was announced today by Lloyd Lutz, chairman of the selection committee.

To date 15 local farm boys have applied for admission to the contest. At 2 p. m. May 4 the committee will screen these applications and select those applicants who will participate in the contest. The committee will meet at the offices of the Chamber of Commerce, Lutz said.

HONEST AGNES - I NEVER SAW SUCH EXPENSIVE DOLLS - SOME OF THEM ARE SOLID GOLD - BUT THEY ALL LOOK LIKE THEY'RE MAD AT EVERYBODY -
BUT DOLLS MUST LOOK SAVAGE AND FEROCIOUS - THEY ARE MADE TO FRIGHTEN AWAY THE SPIRITS OF EVIL -
I GUESS THEY COULD FRIGHTEN ANYBODY - I'M SCARED TO LOOK AT 'EM - BUT AIN'T YOU GOT NO PRETTY, CUDDLY DOLLS THAT LOOK LIKE LITTLE BABIES?
YOU MEAN A SOFT LITTLE DOLL THAT YOU COULD HOLD IN YOUR ARMS? THEY MUST BE WONDERFUL -
THEY AIN'T WONDERFUL, BUT THEY'RE TERRIBLE NICE TO PLAY WITH - I GOT SOME DOLLS ON THE SHIP -

Feeding Meat to Young Baby

During the past 25 years we have become more and more daring in the feeding of infants. While milk, preferably mother's milk, has remained the mainstay of the baby's diet, we have found that the child benefits by the early addition of certain other foods, such as orange juice and strained vegetables.

Even so, until recently, not many even considered the idea of giving meat to babes. Now, however, the marketing of very finely strained meat has given rise to experiments to see whether such meats can safely be given to babies in the early months of life.

For example, Doctors Ruth M. Leverton and George Clark, of Nebraska, have given strained meats to babies beginning at the age of six weeks and continuing for a period of eight weeks.

A study was carried out on 33 infants, over a six-month period, to determine how well the babies tolerated the meat and what effect it had on the coloring matter in the blood and the number of red blood cells.

The strained meat was given to the infants in their milk mixture. The effect of the meat feedings was determined by comparing the babies who received meat with the babies who did not. Enough meat was given to increase the amount of protein in the diet by 25 per cent. Veal, beef, pork and lamb were used. The meat was started by giving a small amount at first, and then gradually increasing it. The amount of sugar in the diet was decreased so that the baby would not receive a diet too high in caloric or heat value.

The babies accepted the mixture readily and none of them was upset by it.

The babies receiving the strained meat did not grow more rapidly or gain weight more readily than the infants who did not receive the meat over a two-month period of study. However, there was a marked increase in the number of red cells and the amount of coloring matter in the blood. It would seem, therefore, that the giving of meat does have the effect of bringing up the red cells count and increasing the amount of hemoglobin or coloring in the blood. When it is realized that practically all babies develop some degree of anemia by the time they are six months of age, the value of this regimen can be appreciated.

Perhaps studies over a longer period of time would also show some effects insofar as weight gains and more rapid growth are concerned.

Of course, most physicians do not approve of the use of meat in the diet at these early ages. However, it does seem that strained meats can be added to infant feedings as early as the fourth or fifth month, with definite benefits insofar as the prevention of anemia is concerned.

Questions and Answers

P. S. What is a fluoroscope? Can it be used to tell if there is anything wrong with the lungs or chest?

A. A fluoroscope is an X-ray. But instead of taking a film or picture of the part of the body X-rayed, the doctor looks at the part through a special type of screen.

Such an examination is useful in detecting disorders of the lungs and heart.

In the days of sailing ships, sailors commonly believed that the best way of starting a wind was to whistle for it.

Thoughtful Motorists Lift Kite from Auto

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 30—Today's orchids for courtesy go to two unidentified motorists who were seen to grind their speeding high powered sports convertible to a stop near here, step from the car and carefully life over the car a kite string stretched across the highway after it had fouled in the grass across the road from several young kite fliers.

Or perhaps the motorists were just remembering the days of their youth-

CATTLE DISEASE STUDY PART OF HIS SCOUT WORK

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, April 30 — Robert Strawser, Eagle Scout of Ashley Scout Troop No. 94 is working on information concerning a new cattle disease, "cattle bloat," as a part of his showing for merit badges. He is passing along some of the information he has gleaned to farmers and cattle owners.

It seems that the disease is caused by cattle being turned out to pasture, with no other food; they should be given the grass diet gradually, along with some grains. If the animals show signs of uneasiness, or lie down and roll, with digestive upset, a veterinarian should be called at once. The Agricultural Extension department at Ohio State university has a bulletin on the subject.

BIDS SATISFACTORY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 30—The state welfare department apparently will recommend acceptance of low bids on a $500,000 assembly hall and school building at Orient state school for feeble minded. Bids were opened yesterday and they exceeded estimates only by $15,979.

Steve Canyon By Milton Caniff

CANYON, WHAT DO YOU MEAN YOU'VE GUESSED WHY I WEAR THIS MASK?
IF THE UNDERGROUND HAS INFILTRATED AGENTS INTO YOUR NOMAD TRIBE, YOU CAN MOVE IN AND OUT FROM UNDER THEIR NOSES IF THEY DON'T KNOW YOUR FACE!
OH—YES, OF COURSE...
THERE WOULDN'T NEED TO BE ANY OTHER REASON, WOULD THERE?
...SUCH AS THE FACT THAT I MIGHT KNOW YOUR FACE FROM SOMEWHERE...
...AND SHE JUST SAT THERE WONDERING WHETHER TO SLUG THE LEG—OR, TAKE HIM COMPLETELY INTO HER CONFIDENCE!

WHO'S BEEN USING MY FOUNTAIN PEN?
I DREW ON MY SLATE WITH IT, BUT IT DIDN'T WORK WELL
I USED IT A MINUTE TO FISH SOME STRING OUT OF THE SINK DRAINPIPE
WOULD YOU RATHER WE DID USE YOUR PE AT ALL, DEAR

Terry and the Pirates By George Wun

YOU'RE A VICTIM OF YOUR OWN FIDELITY TO DETAIL, BRONZ. YOU WANTED TO BE SURE OF FOOLING THE JAP, SO YOU MADE THE FAKE AN EXACT COPY OF AN AUTHENTIC ANTIQUE STATUETTE.
HA! YOU'VE A SUPER-ACTIVE IMAGINATION, VAN GORLIN! TO OVERWORK AN OVERWORKED PHRASE—ANY SIMILARITY BETWEEN MY FAKE STATUETTE AND AN AUTHENTIC ANTIQUE IS PURELY COINCIDENTAL.
IT'S A VERY ELASTIC SAYING, MR. BRONZ...
...BUT WILL IT STRETCH FAR ENOUGH TO COVER THE FACT THAT YOUR FAKE IS AN IDENTICAL COPY OF A FIGURINE STOLEN FROM A MUSEUM NOT FAR FROM HE ABOUT A DOZEN YEARS AGO?

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Sophie Tucker has leased a hotel for 99 years . . . Let Jolson top that.

• • •

Furthermore when the lease expires Sophie probably will be there to renew it.

• • •

A woman who has been winked at by four generations is unusual . . . many never have been winked at by one.

• • •

And no one will believe television is official until Sophie has danced into the screen.

• • •

She not only is the "last of the red not mammas" but she still can light up a radio tube at 10 yards distance.

• • •

Incidentally a lady in Washington had just entered her 1,000th radio contest . . . I understand that all her conversations are of 25 words or less and all start with "I love . . ."

• • •

When they tell her "better luck next time" she just says, "I know!"
